POSTOFFICE CONTRACT IS READY TO SIGN

Reach Final Agreement on New Building; Work Starts at Once

By A. S. HALL
Of The Evening News Staff.

The contract for the erection of Glendale's new postoffice building on East Broadway, near Jackson street, will be awarded on Monday morning to Elmer Elliott, of 612 East Elk street, according to a statement made today by Lewis A. Monroe, of Los Angeles, owner of the site. Mr. Monroe will have the building erected and lease the major portion of it to the postoffice department.

The cost of the building is fixed at approximately $51,000, while the cost of the postoffice fixtures will reach $15,000, Mr. Monroe said. The portion of the building to be occupied by the postoffice has been leased to the government for a period of ten years.

Contracts were all ready to sign two weeks ago, Mr. Monroe said today, in discussing the matter, but the question of financing the fixtures held up the project. The building will be financed by a Los Angeles bank, but Glendale business men agreed to finance the fixture project after the Los Angeles bank balked on that part of the contract, he said.

Papers All Ready

When it became apparent recently that the project might fall through on account of the matter of finance for the fixtures, C. W. Ingledue, president of the Glendale Advancement association, appointed a committee to adjust the difficulties. Through the efforts of Mr. Ingledue and his committee, the necessary papers have been signed and are ready for filing with the county recorder of deeds.

"Mr. Elliott will be present in my office Monday morning at 11 o'clock to sign the contract," Mr Monroe said. "I have called a conference for that time. Reports which were published in Glendale two weeks ago to the effect that all contracts were signed, were wrong. The contract with Mr. Elliott will not be signed until Monday morinng.

Start Work Monday

"As soon as the contract is signed, Mr. Elliott will start excavation work, he tells me. This

Why Did YOU Decide To Make Glendale Your Home?

Editorials recently appearing in The Glendale Evening News pointed out some of the many reasons why Glendale is the ideal residential city of Southern California. People are proving it, for, as told in these columns, the city's population in 1910 was 2,742, in 1920 it was 13,350, and today it is estimated at more than 50,000. And there's a reason. In fact, many of them!

What caused YOU to come to Southern California—and to make Glendale YOUR home? What caused YOU to leave the east, the middle west? What caused YOU, after reaching Southern California, to decide upon Glendale as YOUR permanent residence?

The Glendale Evening News would like to know the reason why YOU are making YOUR home here. You are, of course, proud to register as a citizen of Glendale. You are, of course, proud to tell WHY you are a citizen of Glendale. AND THE GLENDALE EVENING NEWS IS WILLING TO PAY CASH TO LEARN WHY YOU SELECTED GLENDALE FOR YOUR PLACE OF RESIDENCE.

The publisher of this newspaper offers $25 in cash for the best article on WHY I AM IN GLENDALE. The writer of the second best article will receive $15 in cash. The writer of the third best article will receive $10 in cash. Each article MUST be limited to 150 words. You may use LESS than 150 words, but you must NOT exceed that number. All articles must be in The Glendale Evening News office, 139 South Brand boulevard, on or before March 29, must have the writer's name and address and must be addressed to GLENDALE EDITOR, The Glendale Evening News, 139 South Brand Boulevard, Glendale, Calif. Employes of this newspaper and members of their families are barred from participating. The awards will be made by three disinterested judges yet to be selected.

Now then, YOU have a perfectly good reason for having come to Glendale. Surely you can write it in 150 words or less. Let's have it! Your letter may be one of the prize winners. Get busy! The contest is open. Let's have a regular flood of WHY I AM IN GLENDALE letters!

THREE SLAIN BY IRISH MUTINEERS

Free State Troops Hunting Queenstown for Men Launching Attack

DUBLIN, March 22.—Three persons have been killed and nearly sixty wounded in fighting at Queenstown and Cork in the past twenty-four hours.

Two men were killed outright. An English soldier was wounded at Queenstown and died this afternoon.

Free State troops are scouring the Queenstown district for the men responsible for the attack. Free State officials claim the attacks at Queenstown and Cork were "isolated incidents" but it is generally believed those cities will be the chief danger peints if the mutiny in the Free State army grows into open rebellion.

To Punish Culprits

It is believed the irregulars and republicans will attempt to involve the Free State government and England as "partners" if the present movement grows into an armed revolt.

President William Cosgrave, of the Dail Eireann, has sent a message to Premier Ramsay Macdonald stating that the culprits will be punished.

Major General Liam Tobin, one of the leaders of the "mutineer group" in the Free State army, told International News Service he disclaimed all responsibility for the attack at Queenstown.

STRIKE TIES UP LONDON TRAFFIC

Millions Forced to Walk to Work as Bus Employes Ask Higher Pay

LONDON, March 22.—Street traffic was disorganized here today by a strike of 40,000 street railway and automobile bus employes.

Practically all Londoners were compelled to walk to work. Twenty-two hundred street cars and 3,000 busses which normally carry six million passengers daily were idle.

About 300 independent "pirate" busses were operating, but were unable to carry more than a small fraction of the traffic. Taxicabs were at a premium. Subways and steam suburban trains were jammed. Every form of vehicle was utilized. Thousands rode bicycles to work.

Threaten Pickets

Violence was threatened when "pirate" bus drivers threatened the strikers' pickets. A crowd of angry commuters and police took control of the South London steam subway station. The strikers are demanding a wage increase, but Lord Ashfield, head of the transportation companies, says it is impossible to grant it.

A government inquiry into the men's grievances is under way. The subway workers will meet Monday to consider a sympathetic strike.

SAVES TWO FAMILIES IN FIRE

Rushes Into Burning Home And Awakens Inmates As Flames Flare

Prompt action on the part of the Glendale fire department early this morning saved the property of F. W. McIntyre at 1041 South Verdugo road from destruction.

As it was, flames partially gutted the structure and broke through the roof on the south side, rendering two families homeless and destroying numerous articles of clothing. A defective flue is said to have caused the blaze.

Awakens Families

Driving along Verdugo road at 7:45 o'clock this morning in a truck, Philip Harris of the Glendale Wholesale Fruit and Produce company saw flames crackling under the eaves of the picturesque old house and at once dashed in and awakened the sleeping families: Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Radford and their young sons, Orval and Chester, recently from Vinita, Okla., and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Irick and their young son, Ora, who arrived from Fresno just last week.

While these tenants and subtenants hastened to remove their furniture and personal effects from the blazing house, Mr. Harris returned to his truck and rushed to the fire department, where alarms were turned in and two pumpers dispatched by Chief Arthur H. Lankford to the scene of the fire, No. 1 with four men in charge of Captain Ralph Dodsworth and No. 2 with three men in charge of Captain George Meyer.

None Injured

Chief Lankford accompanied his men to the blaze and supervised the fight that ensued, extinguishing the flames in a matter of minutes.

It is believed that but for Philip Harris discovering the fire and arousing the occupants of the burning house, serious injury or death might have been the lot of the sleeping victims. As it was, none were injured.

F. W. McIntyre, owner of the property, stated, following the fire, that he believes the property to be fully covered by insurance.

GET HINT OF FOUL PLAY AT PROBE

Woman Accuses Daugherty Of 'Enmeshing' Former Husband In Maze

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Sobbing at times hysterically and accusing Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty of "enmeshing" her former husband, Jesse W. Smith, in a maze of Washington intrigue, Roxie Stinson, divorced wife of Smith, played the stellar role in a dramatic scene before the Senate Daugherty investigation committee.

Mrs. Stinson accused Daugherty of "intimidating" her in Cleveland, as she tearfully related in a broken voice how it came to happen that she was registered at a Cleveland hotel with Al Fink as her husband.

Hints of Foul Play

Throughout Mrs. Stinson's testimony and questions asked her by Senator Wheeler there was a vague and startling inference that Jesse Smith met with foul play.

Smith killed himself a year ago in the attorney general's apartment in the Wardman Park hotel here. His body was discovered on the bathroom floor by Warren F. Martin, one of Daugherty's assistants, the attorney general himself being absent at that time.

Startling stories were drawn from Mrs. Stinson after she had created a dramatic scene on the witness stand by tearfully and hysterically accusing Daugherty of attempting to "frame her" in a Cleveland hotel a month ago, where she was registered as the wife of Al Fink.

Tells Alleged Deals

The testimony concerning the deals was the outgrowth of the reading of a number of letters that passed between Smith and Mrs. Stinson at today's hearing. These letters frequently referred to "deals."

"Tell one specific deal in which Smith mentioned Harry Daugherty as being in on a deal," said Senator Wheeler.

"Well, I heard about the liquor deal and the Daugherty deal at the Chicago convention."

"Daugherty sat in on that deal?"

"Oh, yes; and Jake Hamon was there."

"Did Smith say that Daugherty was in on a liquor deal?"

"Yes he said that many times; they were going to get some liquor withdrawal permits through two or three big drug companies."

"Did he say Harry Daugherty would help get these permits?"

"Yes, Jesse told me that was how they would get the permits, through Harry Daugherty."

"Did Jesse mention Howard Mannington in connection with these liquor deals?"

"Many times."

Accuses Daugherty

The witness flatly charged Attorney General Daugherty with "enmeshing Jesse Smith."

"I must break Jesse's confidence of what has happened," Mrs. Stinson said. "Jesse was enmeshed through his great loyalty and devotion to an unscrupulous man—a man who has used the power of the law and his secret service to intimidate people."

At this point Mrs. Stinson's

Did Spirit of Love or Revenge Cause Roxie Stinson to Talk?

Mrs. Roxie Stinson

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Did love or the mad desire for revenge prompt Mrs. Roxie Stinson, divorced wife of Jesse Smith, to reveal to the Senate committee investigating the conduct of Attorney General Daugherty the financial transactions Smith had and in which she says Daugherty was always consulted.

Smith, confidant and life-long friend of Daugherty, committed suicide a year ago in an apartment used by himself and Daugherty. Mrs. Stinson said before the committee: "Jess gave his life for Harry Daugherty."

Asked to explain she said that Smith had talked of nothing for six months but his financial deals and feared "the whole thing would come out." She told how Smith had confided much to her and had told her of meetings he and Daugherty had in a "little green house" on K street, this city, where they discussed their "deals." She described Smith as Daugherty's "bumper."

Faced with Mrs. Stinson's testimony Daugherty, for the first time since the committee started its investigation, defended himself by issuing a statement. In this statement he said:

"She (meaning Mrs. Stinson) is a disappointed woman who blames me because her divorced husband did not make her sole legatee under his will, an angry woman because the courts have decided against her . . . a malicious woman because the friends of the attorney general have brushed aside and disregarded all her tentative efforts to capitalize her silence."

But Mrs. Stinson says she is speaking only because of her love for Smith and her desire to see the truth come out.

Hays Tells About Sinclair Gift To Republican Party

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Harry F. Sinclair, millionaire oil magnate, who leased Teapot Dome from Albert B. Fall, contributed "about $75,000 to the Republican party's campaign fund," it was admitted today by Will H. Hays, director of the Republican campaign in 1920, testifying today before the Senate oil investigating committee.

"How much actually did he give?" asked Senator Walsh.

"Not more than $75,000," said Hays. "How much less?"

"I don't know. He made the contribution to the committee."

"Are you sure it wasn't paid to you?"

"Well, I helped handle the fund. As I remember it, Sinclair said he would be responsible for $75,000. Part of it went to discharge a note at the Empire Trust company."

Hunt for Details

Senator Walsh announced that he would issue a subpoena from Fred W. Upham, treasurer of the national Republican committee, to get the details of Sinclair's $75,000 contribution.

This testimony was adduced from Hays over the strenuous protest of Republican members of the oil committee, who declared campaign contributions were not relevant to the inquiry, but the committee sustained Walsh's line of inquiry by a vote of six to four.

Hays said he himself had solicited Sinclair's contribution, "about two years after the campaign," which would place it in 1922.

"But I never heard of any oil leases, directly or indirectly, until Bacon, president; Mrs. Edith Dockeray, vice president; Mrs. Daugherty, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Annie Siple, recording secretary; Mrs. Sarah Thomas, treasurer; Mrs. R. W. The chapter went on record as heartily endorsing the coming production of the oratorio, "Elijah," which is to be presented by the Glendale Music club.

The leading feature of the afternoon program was a review by Dr. Laura Brown, of a recent novel, "Ancient Fires," by I. A. R. Wiley. The review touched especially on the value of research work, descriptive interest, and side lights on life in South America, and less on the romance of the story. Sixteen were present.

Mrs. Daugherty then presented green caps to all those present who claimed to be the least bit Irish. She also conducted an Irish class.

Clever stories were told by C. W. Bacon and others.

With the serving of refreshments, Irish jokes were concealed in green paper in the napkins and each one present was asked to read his joke.

MANY GUESTS AT BUICK RECEPTION

Tanner & Hall Greet Friends As Agency's New Home Formally Opens

When Tanner & Hall, Ltd., opened the doors of their new place of business on South Brand boulevard, at Maple avenue, today at 2 o'clock, the crowds that had accepted the firm's invitation to inspect the new home of the Buick agency thronged the establishment and gave it as close and as enthusiastic an inspection as has ever been awarded any other business house in Glendale, and the compliments that were showered on the members of the firm and on the various members of the staff showed a genuine pride in this important entity of Glendale's industrial life.

The showrooms were elaborately decorated for the occasion, and the various models of the late Buicks that were on the floor were eagerly inspected by the motoring enthusiasts who thronged the place from the minute the doors were thrown open.

Dancing Tonight

W. A. Tanner and Harry E. Hall, assisted by members of the office and sales staffs, were on hand to see that the visitors were given a thorough view of every part of the establishment, which stands as a monument to the energy and the vision of the Buick distributors and their capable corps of aides.

Tonight dancing and music will be the outstanding features of the program that has been planned by the firm, and refreshments will be served the guests.

DECISION NOT TO AFFECT ZONE LAW

Glendale Ordinances Remain Unaltered, Is Claim of Attorney Tarr

Decision of the district court of Los Angeles yesterday that the effort of city officials to forbid construction of store buildings along Wilshire boulevard constitutes "an arbitrary attempt to discriminate" will not affect the zoning law in general, according to Leslie R. Tarr, deputy city attorney, nor will it in any way alter existing Glendale zoning ordinances. Mr. Tarr states:

"This decision has reference only to the action of the Los Angeles City Council and the Board of Public Works in refusing to grant permits for construction of store buildings along Wilshire boulevard, in what they had arbitrarily designated as a "class B" zone. It in no way weakens existing zoning legislation, but simply reverses the action of the City Council in its application of the ordinance to the case in question.

Must Use Discretion

"If the decision establishes any precedent it is that reasonable discretion must be shown in the matter of zoning and that arbitrary action by city officials will not be sustained by the courts."

The decision in question was written by Presiding Justice Conrey and concurred in by Associate Justices Houser and Craig. It took the form of a peremptory writ of mandate, issued at the behest of Hector H. Zahn and A. W. Ross, commanding the Board of Public Works to issue them a permit for the construction of store buildings on the property fronting on Wilshire boulevard between Cochran street and Dunsmuir avenue, near the intersection of Wilshire boulevard and La Brea avenue.

An added feature of the decision, though incidental to the zoning matter, was the fact that the court took occasion to declare illegal the setback legislation of the Los Angeles City Council, which was also involved in the case. In its application to the California Supreme Court for a rehearing of the case it is understood the city will also dispute this decision.

PLAYERS PRAISED FOR PRODUCTION

Success of 'Mice and Men' Assures Glendale of Future Dramas

The final performance of "Mice and Men" was given last night at the Harvard High school by the players of the drama department of Community Service.

Reports state that a larger crowd greeted the players than on the first night.

The players, their coach, Granville Sturgis, and Mrs. Max Lynn Green, chairman of the drama department, received much praise for their first production, and, judging from its success, dramatic activities are to become an important part of the community program.

Added features last night were a word of greeting from A. L. Baird, president of Community Service, who spoke of his pleasure in the success of the play, and a solo by Miss May Orcutt, pianist.

CLAIM DAUGHERTY HINDERING PROBE

Senator Charges Witnesses Intimidated, Demands His Suspension

WASHINGTON, March 22.—A demand that President Coolidge suspend Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty forthwith because of alleged intimidation of witnesses appearing before the Senate committee investigating his administration, was voiced today by Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, promoter of the inquiry.

Wheeler's demand came as the investigation again got under way in a flurry of fireworks, marked by some of the strongest language Wheeler has yet used in denouncing Daugherty.

OFFER NORTHWEST BUSINESS SITES

Frontage on San Fernando Road Is Located Near Industrial Tract

Business frontage on San Fernando road, according to realtors who are posted on local growth and the conditions affecting the industrial development of Glendale, offers opportunities unrivalled by any other section of the city, and Arthur Campbell, 110 East Broadway, in offering five corner lots and twenty inside lots in the new business district north of Grand View, declares that San Fernando business property is "the best bet."

"Shrewd realty investors are turning their eyes on North San Fernando road," declares Mr. Campbell, "and they are concentrating their buying in this district before prices begin to climb out of sight, as they are certain to do in the near future if this section maintains its present rate of development."

Opens Tract Office

Mr. Campbell is selling what he claims to be the best and cheapest real estate between Los Angeles and Burbank, 25x125-foot lots, in a location that is destined to be snapped up quickly by investors seeking real bargains.

The Campbell tract office is established at the corner of Sonora avenue and San Fernando road, or particulars may be obtained at the main office at 110 East Broadway.

MOTHERS ATTEND TALK ON CHILD'S PRE-SCHOOL AGE

Third Lecture of Series Is Delivered by Noted Child Educator

Miss Madeline Veverka, supervisor of kindergarten and primary work in the Los Angeles city schools, spoke yesterday morning on "The Pre-School Age of the Child" in the auditorium at 323 North Brand boulevard, giving the third lecture in the series that are being given by speakers from the extension of the University of California, Southern Branch, under the auspices of the Glendale Federation, Parent-Teacher associations.

Glendale mothers attending the lecture were delighted with Miss Veverka, for, in addition to possessing a magnetic personality, she has a wealth of helpful information to give, with an interesting background of education, training and experience.

Some of the outstanding points brought out by Miss Veverka were:

"The pre-school child has come into its own much more since the war. The war taught us the lack of early training in the men who engaged in it.

"Teach the child from his own viewpoint. Build habits through training. He will learn by repeating.

"If a child is trained right he will be very sensitive to the wrong."

"All children possess three instincts—love, security and recognition.

"The right should be recognized as keenly as the wrong in the child.

"Do not stress the negative in training a child."

For further reading on the subject she discussed, she suggested the following books:

"Prospective Mother" (Slemons), "Mothercraft Manual" (Mary L. Read), "Care and Feeding of Children" (Emmet L. Holt, M. D.), "Feeding the Family" (Rose), "Song of Life" (Morely), (What children should know and how mothers should tell it); "The Pre-School Child" (Gesell), "Trend of the Teens" (M. V. O'Shea), "Talks to Mothers" (Patri), "The Child Under Eight" (Murray G. Smith), "Outwitting Our Nerves" (Josephine Jackson), "Were You Ever a Child?" (Floyd Dell), "Shackled Youth" (Edward Yeomans), "Child Welfare Magazine," "P.-T. A. and National Congress of Mothers Magazine."

VYSELAK SPEAKS AT ART MEETING

Painter Urges Cultivation of Proper Technique In Picture Making

Eduard Vyselak, of the Otis Art Institute, who was guest of honor at the meeting of the Glendale Art Association Friday night at the public library, was accorded an enthusiastic welcome by his many warm friends in the organization and visitors who were privileged to attend the previous meeting at which he was speaker.

He gave a most entertaining talk on art from the standpoint of an artist and also related some interesting experiences as instructor of the Art Institute. He spoke particularly of the value of individuality in art, and the great importance of "balance", and the placing of the "point of interest." "All masterpieces are built on human interest," said the speaker. "The picture is a human product and reflects the human being itself, and the greater the picture the greater the reflection of the human qualities."

Won First Prize

It is of interest to note that it was a painting by Mr. Vyselak entitled "Costume, Life and Still Life," that was awarded the first prize at the last exhibit of the California Art club held at Exposition park.

Mrs. Roy A. Ballagh presided at the business meeting. Mrs. Mabel Franklin Ocker, chairman of the window committee, reported that through the courtesy of local merchants thirty-one windows on Brand boulevard had been secured for the exhibit of pictures by the club members which will be placed on display during National Art week, March 24 to 31. Allotment of windows was made by drawing and the committee in charge expects to have them in place by Monday.

A decision was also made to bring the pictures to the library at the close of Art Week, where they will be hung for the regular exhibit during the month of April. Mrs. Ballagh also announced the "open house" will be kept at the studios of artists in all cities in Southern California during the coming week.

At the close of the meeting a social hour was enjoyed and light refreshments served, Mrs. John W. Cotton and Mrs. S. B. Warner presiding at the punch table.

COOLIDGE WINNER

FARGO, N. D., March 22.—Virtually complete returns in the North Dakota presidential preferential primary late today gave Coolidge 49,175 votes; La Follette 34,894 and Johnson 30,532. Returns from only 203 of the 2058 precincts are now missing and it is conceded that these will not materially alter the standing.

COMMENT

That's All

Evolution We Must Face
What the Future Presents
An A, B, C in Progress
Capitalize Your Courage

By Gil A. Cowan

Good evening, folks. May we have words with you, as we say when real confidential. And we are going to be right frank, too.

Have you written any letters "back east" recently? And what have you said in them? Also, have you sent copies of The Glendale Evening News to your eastern friends recently? And, if not, why?

Southern California, as ever, is in the progress of the greatest development history has ever known. The Roman and Byzantine empires were mere pigmies in achievement, compared to the Pacific coast.

Yet we are living today in a hypnotic state, almost. Overawed by the magnitude of things. Unable to speak, as it were. We needs must broadcast the facts as they are to interest more capital, to bring more industry, to employ more people, to have more homes and so on.

All California, and particularly the southern section of the state, is a wonderland designed by the Creator, no doubt, as an epochal part of His divine evolutionary plan. Historians will show you how the Phoenicians carried to Greece, and Greece carried on to Rome, and Rome to Southern Europe and England, and Spain and England to the new continent America, and Boston and New Orleans to the rest of the country and now it comes Los Angeles, San Francisco's and Seattle's turn to carry on the modern light of civilization to the Orient. It is a story for books to tell, not for a paragrapher to infer, yet it is true—a living fact which we must face.

Just as Rome eclipsed Athens and London far outstripped Rome there is no reason to doubt that Los Angeles is destined to far surpass London, as days turn into years and years roll into centuries. Indeed, it is difficult for human comprehension to grasp the thought, intangible as it stands today, yet there are little indications, outcroppings as a geologist might say, which reveal to the student and the seer that which the future holds.

Last evening the writer listened to a casual conversation of a Los Angeles business man. For twenty years he has been a close observer—not an investor or a promoter in the slightest sense of the word. Neither is he a visionary, but he does know whereof he speaks from a close association with the leaders in the business life of the metropolis at our gates.

There will be constructed, he said, a building in Los Angeles covering one square block, the largest structure ever conceived. It has been planned for more than five years and only now are the research workers reporting the results of their survey. At this time we need not mention the place, or the people behind the project, yet five years from now if you recall this comment you will call us prophetic.

This one building is not all, for there will be built also the greatest terminal system the world has ever known, co-ordinating the great transcontinental rail lines which will be double tracked, electrified and brought to the highest state of efficiency it is possible to dream. And from this will radiate a network of subways, harbor lines and other methods of transportation for traffic of proportions more unbelievable than that which those who have lived here twenty years have witnessed.

Los Angeles, Glendale, Long Beach, San Pedro, Pasadena and all the rest of Southern California now is only in a transitory stage. We expect to live to see the day when there will be literally nothing but apartments, hotels and stores in the heart of Glendale. And the hillslopes and nearby valleys will be crowded with the homes of which we boast. There will be bigger and better homes, beautiful boulevards from the mountains to the sea, parks—everything to make life worth living in the utmost sense of the word.

But, for the present we must face the problems of the day. Dreams of world trade and industries which are bound to be will find fulfillment in the natural course of events. Right now the great needs are Confidence, Courage and Capital. They are the three C's in the alphabet of progress. We have the Advantages, the Attractions and the glorious Accomplishments of the past. We have the natural Beauties, the Building and the Bizarre life. We are fast approaching the Development, the Desires and the Destiny of our Day Dreams.

If you have Confidence in yourself, your city, your southland, your California, your Pacific coast, it takes only the Courage to convince your eastern friends with the Capital to come here and make this land all you may Desire in Development and Destiny.

Now is no time for idle chatter. Mistakes of yesterday should stand forgotten. The dawn of tomorrow should not be awaited before the wheels of progress are speeded. Go ye into the fields and sow the seed that ye may reap the harvest would be a theme for every pastor to preach, for every teacher to teach, for every writer to urge. The hour of greater achievement is at hand.

What part will you play for posterity to say "there lies a man who among men was a leader; whose work lives on forever and aye".

Such there be, but they are too few. So many lack the vision. So many mistake the mole-hill for the mountain. More are so preoccupied in attaining pleasure or profit that they see not, they hear not, they know not. And in courage they are lacking. Of confidence they have none.

Would that we were able to carry "A Message to Garcia." That is a task for you to do. Deliver unto California that which is necessary. Bring to this state the men with vision and ability and money. If you know them, direct your appeals to them. And tell them of Glendale, of Los Angeles, of the southland and all California. It is your duty.

So, having said our say, we depart for the day. May these thoughts hit you squarely between the eyes, sink in an inch or two and stay planted. Good-night.

FLOWERS TO BE PROVIDED EACH BANQUET GUEST

Every Person Attending Big Father and Son Feast Will Wear Them

Glendale fathers and sons attending the fifth annual Hi-Y banquet next Tuesday night, March 25, at the Glendale Presbyterian church, are each to have their own floral decorations on the dinner tables. Charles Thompson, chairman, and other members of the decorating committee have arranged for big bouquets of California poppies for the "pops" present, and golden sunflowers for the sons. Plans are being made for 500 men and boys.

Lots of fatherless boys have been "adopted" by boyless fathers for the occasion, states Rex C. Kelley, local Y. M. C. A. secretary, but still more men are needed and if they will call the Y. M. C. A. office, Glendale 1153-W, they will be provided with a boy, accompanied by a genuine guarantee of a live, interesting time next Tuesday night.

Arlan McCormick is to give the invocation at the hour of 6:30 o'clock, announced by Mrs. J. A. Newton and other women of the Presbyterian church as the time of serving the dinner. Later, singing will be led by Fred Dye of Hollywood.

Haig as Toastmaster

David Black, chairman of the local Y. M. C. A. committee, will be chairman of the evening and will introduce as toastmaster Theodore Haig, president of the Glendale Hi-Y.

There will be funny stories by Art Foster, professional entertainer, and Jerry Osier, president of the Junior Hi-Y, who will tell of the 1923 summer camp.

Bill Gray of the Fremont Pioneers will give a toast, "To Our Dads," and C. W. Ingledue has been chosen to respond with a toast "To Our Boys."

Merriam to Speak

"Bringing Up Father" is to be described by Arden Gingery of the Hi-Y.

Joining with the boys in the jollity of the evening will be Frank F. Merriam of Long Beach, speaker in the House of the California Legislature. He will be honored guest and will be introduced by Frank C. Weller of Glendale, assemblyman from the sixty-first district.

Rev. W. E. Edmonds will give the benediction, when the dinner company breaks up at 8:20 o'clock, in time to attend the production of Mendelssohn's oratorio, "Elijah," at the Broadway High school.

DENIES SHARING IN LIQUOR DEAL

Attorney, Named In Senate Probe, Claims He Never Aided Withdrawals

PARIS, March 22.—Howard Mannington of Columbus, Ohio, a member of the so-called "Ohio group" mentioned in the senatorial investigation of Attorney-General Harry M. Daugherty at Washington, today denied that he ever was implicated in any illegal liquor deals in the United States.

Testimony had been given that Mannington, who is living in a hotel near Place Vendome, had benefited from "illegal liquor money," as well as William A. Orr and Jesse Smith. Mannington, in an exclusive statement to International News Service today, made vigorous denial to this allegation.

Purely Business

"My relations with Orr were purely those of regular business affairs and covered several subjects not related in any way whatsoever to liquor," said Mannington. "There was never any understanding about 'keeping any matter out of the courts.' I never contemplated any court proceedings for our dealings were legal and legitimate. Events show quite fully that I never thought of possible litigation.

"I was never asked by Orr about withdrawals, nor did I ever have anything to do with liquor withdrawals for Orr nor anyone else.

Paid for Services

"Orr compensated me for services that I performed in several instances, though there was never any formal agreement or arrangement.

"My services covered several months, dating back before the rumored arrangement between Orr and the drug companies mentioned in the testimony at Washington. I never heard of those drug companies myself until some time after my business connections with Orr had ceased."

"Kiltraf" was coined by John F. Perry of San Antonio to describe a reckless auto driver. Now that boozers have been shamed out of existence by being called "scoflaws," it will be but a short time until the rest of these pests crawl into a hole and pull the hole in after them. Their sensitive souls cannot bear to be so scathingly ridiculed. Ain't language grand?

"What are bacteria?" asks a correspondent. Such ignorance is dumfounding. It is generally conceded that these micro-organisms should be assigned to the plant world, as they resemble some of the algae in form, mode of production and absence of definite nucleus. Those possessing flagella show points of resemblance with some of the protozoa. Bacteria closely resemble plants from a chemical standpoint in possessing chemo-synthetic power in nitrogen metabolism. It is to be hoped that this simple explanation will relieve the vacuum in the correspondent's temple of thought.

Bishop Herbert Welch, a prominent alumnus of the university, was one of the special speakers.

RAISES APPROPRIATION

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Representative Gallinger, Republican, of Massachusetts, has succeeded in securing an additional appropriation of $45,000 for the Boston navy yard through an amendment to the naval appropriation bill which is being considered in the House. The House appropriations committee had allowed $175,000 for repairs at the Boston yard, but Gallinger insisted that renewal of the roofs of foundry buildings was necessary.

CONTRACT READY FOR POSTOFFICE

Work on New Building to Start First of Week, It Is Announced

will mean that actual work will begin Monday afternoon or Tuesday morning. Once started, the construction will be rushed as fast as possible. The building must be ready for the postoffice department within three months after the contract is signed. To insure this time-limit clause being carried out, the contractor will be required to post an indemnity bond."

The entire building will be 100 feet wide, fronting on East Broadway, and will extend back 150 feet to the alley. There will be a lobby entrance to the postoffice in the center of the building, the lobby to be twenty-two feet wide. Flanking the lobby on both sides will be store rooms forty feet deep.

Present plans call for construction of the front forty feet of the building in such a manner that a second story can be added at a later date. The remaning portion of the building will be one story in height, and there will be a basement under the entire building.

Employ More Clerks

Additional clerks will be added to the personnel of the postoffice when the new quarters are occupied, Assistant Postmaster George Hallett said. The present force includes thirty-five regular clerks, thirty-seven carriers for Glendale delivery, five substitute carriers, and two rural route carriers.

The increased working force will be necessary on account of the additional windows planned for the new quarters. There are six windows in the present postoffice on West Broadway, for general delivery, registered mail, money orders, stamps, parcel post and box rent.

Ten windows will be installed in the new quarters, it has been announced. Instead of only one general delivery window, as is the case now, there will be three general delivery windows. The carrier force will not increase at present time, it is said.

More Floor Space

The floor space in the new quarters will be more than double the floor space at the present building, according to Assistant Postmaster Hallett. The area leased by the government in the new building will be 12,300 square feet, as compared with 5300 square feet at the present postoffice building.

The floor space now occupied by the postoffice department in the building on West Broadway is more than double that of the building used prior to July 1, 1922, at 124 North Brand boulevard, where the floor space amounted to only 2500 square feet.

When the postoffice was moved to the present location less than two years ago, it was expected the space would be sufficient to care for the wants of Glendale in the mail line for at least five years, but Postmaster Jackson soon learned that more room was needed on account of the ever-increasing business of the office.

Double Lock Boxes

The demand for lock boxes has always been greater than the supply, Postmaster Jackson said. There are 500 boxes at the present office, all of which have been rented. Some time ago patrons of the office were informed there were no empty boxes available, and would not be any to rent before April 1.

The number of lock boxes in the new building will be double the number in use now, and the same kind. It is expected all these will be taken within a short time after the office is opened. The tiers of lock boxes will line one wall of the lobby.

New trucks for the handling of mail sacks and for pick-up work have been ordered from the postoffice department by Postmaster Jackson. Other new equipment made necessary by the increase in the amount of mail handled by the local office will be secured.

Alfred Priest was the architect for the building. The fixtures, especially selected to enable postal clerks to handle mail in the least amount of time, and to increase the efficiency of the office, were designed upon suggestions of Postmaster Jackson and postoffice department officials.

ELECT MASON AS DISTRICT'S HEAD

Rotarians Pick Los Angeles Man After Contest at San Jose Meet

SAN JOSE, Cal., March 22.—Action on resolutions, naming of the next conference city and addresses by John R. Williams of Long Beach and Fred C. Nelles of Whittier marked the third session of the ninth annual conference of the Second Rotary district today. This afternoon the Rotarians went on a special excursion to the big trees, and tonight the annual governor's ball will be held.

Harry Mason will preside over the district, which includes California, Nevada and the Hawaiian islands, the coming year. His election as president was preceded by a warm skirmish between the large city clubs and those of the smaller chapters. Mason comes from Los Angeles. Harry Riley of Anaheim was also nominated.

Among the speakers at today's session were Harry C. Carr, Porterville; Holtby Myers, Los Angeles; Cloyd Hartranft, Anaheim; Allison Ware, Chico; Fred McClung, Huntington, Park; Thomas B. Merrill, Long Beach, and J. H. McCurdy, Long Beach.

SACRAMENTO, March 22.—Governor Richardson will investigate reports that William Hard, Los Angeles youth under sentence of death for murder at San Quentin prison is not 18 years old and therefore not subject to the death penalty, he said in a statement.

"I propose to make an investigation of the William Hard case and I do not need the assistance of newspapers, sob sisters or hired attorneys," the governor's statement said. "If Hard has been sentenced in violation of the law, I can act with propriety. I stand firmly for law enforcement and the law prohibiting the hanging of persons under 18 is as sacred to me as any law."

OVERCOAT TAKEN, RING IS MISSING

Police Believe Drug Addict Looking for Dope Got Doctor's Garment

Dr. O. A. Dieterich has reported to the police department the theft of his overcoat from the new Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital at 10 o'clock last night. In the pocket were keys to his office in the Pacific Union conference headquarters at 603 East Broadway. It is believed that a drug addict in search of narcotics may have stolen the overcoat. The doctor's office is being watched.

MONEY TO MEET ORATORIO COSTS WILL BE RAISED

Club President Expresses Appreciation of Aid Given to Project

Necessary finances for the production Tuesday night at the Broadway High school of Mendelssohn's oratorio, "Elijah," by the Glendale Music club, are almost assured, was the enthusiastic announcement issued this morning by Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, club president, who now has $500 of the necessary $600 in hand and is confident that ere Monday the entire amount will be completed.

All money above the $600 will go to the scholarship fund, of which Miss Elizabeth Mottern, talented Glendale soprano, is beneficiary.

Expresses Thanks

As president of the Music club Mrs. Jones has issued the following appreciation: "The Glendale Music club expresses sincere thanks to our City Council, the Chamber of Commerce, The Glendale Evening News, men's clubs, women's clubs, churches, fraternal organizations, and to all loyal citizens who have contributed of their talent, time and means to making this initial oratorio production in Glendale a success.

"It is our aim and desire to make the oratorio a permanent institution in our city and it is only through the aid and co-operation of all the civic, educational and moral forces of our community that such work can live.

"We express gratitude to the business men of our city and to the merchants who have postponed their fashion show one night in our favor.

Lauds Directors

"To Mrs. Perry Rogers, accompanist, and to the chorus members who have worked so faithfully to help make Glendale not only the fastest growing city in America, but a city of harmony and good music, we express sincere appreciation."

WORLD'S EYES ON SOUTHLAND, CLAIM

Future of Civilization to Be Decided by People Of California

A large audience of men were present at the Brotherhood banquet of the First Methodist church last night. The speakers, Dr. W. A. Brown, pastor of the University church, Los Angeles, gave an interesting address on "Southern California in the Eyes of the World." Dr. Brown has traveled extensively in the far east and illustrated his address with incidents and experiences of personal observation.

Civilization, he contended, had always moved westward. It was this law that moved Columbus to discover this country, which first established itself on the shores of the Atlantic, moved westward across the Rocky mountains, until it reached the Pacific ocean.

"The end of land in our country has been reached and today Southern California holds in her hand the key to the situation," he said, "here where the Anglo-Saxon and the Oriental are bound together. To a large degree the future civilization of the world is looking to Southern California. In the past the great cities destroyed each other in competition. Southern California must show a better way.

Los Angeles' Destiny

"In the second place, the eyes of the world are on Los Angeles, which is bound to be the metropolis of this great basin, and one of the large cities of the world.

"In the third place, the eyes of the world are on us to see what the Anglo-Saxon race shall climax in, and it is my belief that it shall not be material development, not the work of our hands, but our climax shall be in religion and education. In the light of the situation what kind of folks ought we to be? To measure up we must avoid the perils that confront us.

Three Perils

"As citizens of Southern California we are particularly exposed to three perils: First, from our leisure, we were active Christians back east, pleasure-seekers out here; second, perils from our many privileges, no pioneering, no personal struggles, the body always carried makes a poor walker; third, the danger is that the nearer to the tropics as a rule the poorer the state of civilization.

"A recent social survey has shown three conditions: First, increasing number of men joining and attending the fraternities; second, great activity in women's clubs; third, an alarming increase of juvenile crime. A few years ago the average age of men committed for crime was 28 years. Today the average age is 19 years, a condition unparalleled in history. Largely the product of the war.

"It is true we have no saloons, but the dance halls are nearly as bad. Some may call me an alarmist; but are not the dangers to young life enough to alarm us? What kind of men ought we to be? We ought to be broad enough to join hands with all going our way; work continuously to bring in the day; be real friends of Jesus and therefore friends to all mankind. The highest possessions are spiritual values, and Southern California is a fine soil to grow them in."

CLIMBERS WILL ATTEMPT TO SCALE EVEREST

Top of World's Only Unconquered Mountain Goal of Expedition

The closest photo ever made of Mt. Everest, Gen. C. C. Bruce, and map showing the location of the peak.

LONDON, March 21.—Determined to scale Mt. Everest, world's last unconquered peak, an ntrepid party of British mountain-climbers is now slowly making its way from India through Tibet to the Himalayas.

The expedition, of which Gen. C. G. Bruce is commander, is retraveling the trail made in 1922, when Bruce and his party came within 1,700 feet of reaching the summit.

Everest, the highest mountain on the globe, rears its head 29,000 feet above sea level. Twice it has balked organized attempts to conquer it.

The chief problem of this expedition is to enter Tibet at the last possible moment to avoid the intense cold of the winter and at the same time be able to make all the necessary preparations for their supply camps.

Every member of the party is an expert mountain climber and the expedition is supplied with every article experience has shown is essential for success.

The greatest enemies of the mountaineers are the fierce blizzards and icy winds which suddenly sweep down on the mountains without warning day and night.

It will not be until May that the highest peaks are scaled. But in the interval much preparatory work must be undertaken. Camps have to be made at various stages until a height of 25,000 or 26,000 feet is attained.

These camps must be connected by paths for the Tibetan mules and coolies, who carry supplies from the base camps. In the final climbs two other high camp stations are made for resting and the storage of oxygen tanks and tobacco, and also for acclimatization.

Members of last year's expedition attained an elevation of 27,300 feet above sea level by using cigarettes and oxygen. They found that men work best at high altitudes when they are properly acclimatized to them. A height of 23,000 feet is found to be suited for an acclimatization camp. Every man has a distinct rate of acclimatization. Some adjust themselves rapidly and many do it slowly. Some of the older members of the expedition appeared to deteriorate in condition while living in the acclimatization camp.

It is still a question whether any human being can live to scale Everest's bitter, snowclad heights, towering 29,000 feet among the Himalayas.

Can human strength pit itself successfully against that mass, of rock swept by gales and cloaked in eternal ice?

The lives of men have been staked on the effort already and eight lie dead as a result.

LA CRESCENTA

LEGION BENEFIT WILL BE STAGED

Funds for Post Quarters to Be Raised by Big Show On Monday Night

By MARY B. DARROW
Of The Evening News Staff.

Do you remember the boys who went overseas for us a few years ago, how proud we felt of them and all we promised ourselves we would do for them when they got home? Well, sit up and take notice, for we have a few of them, quite a few, in fact, in our midst, boys who need to live up here on account of their health, which conditions were brought on when they made our country safe for us.

They are not asking for charity, but having formed a legion post here, want a post home to hold their meetings in, just as your Elks have their clubhouse, the Woman's clubs have theirs, only right, isn't it?

The boys are going to give a big show on Monday night and want you to pay only 50 cents for your ticket, 25 cents for the kiddies. This is what you'll get for your 50 cents.

Program for Evening

Playlet, by the Buddies themselves; readings, members G. U. H. D. C., readings from New York plays, Mr. Brewster, head of the dramatic department of Glendale Union High school; ventriloquist, picture; Company "C," from Cranberry Crossroads at the front and, last but not least, the cast of "Si Slocum's Country Store" has agreed to put on the clever comedy again to help the legion boys.

The entire proceeds will go to the legion, so if you go besides doing yourself a good turn you'll be helping the boys put up a legion post home. Is it worth turning out on Monday? We'll say it is. Remember, at the schoolhouse in La Crescenta, be on hand promptly, at 7:30, if you want a seat as the five-piece orchestra will play the overture promptly at five minutes to 8 o'clock.

Make Fire Breaks

Large crews of men are busy on the hillsides north of town making fire breaks. One of the breaks will extend between Eagle Rock and Goss canyons, while the other one will run along the east ridge of Dunsmore canyon. The second crew of men will be put on in about two weeks.

It is estimated the work will cost approximately $1000, this sum being subscribed by property owners of this district. Harvey Bissel is the instigator of the work, knowing the value of a fire break, as he has personally supervised the making of the breaks which bound his property on both sides. These breaks not alone protect property in time of fire, but conserve the rainfall by forming watersheds.

Guests of Honor

Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Thomas of Cuddle Doon spent last evening in Los Angeles at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis W. Andrews in Lafayette park. The occasion was a musical evening planned in honor of Madame Ellen Beach Yaw and her husband, Franklin Cannon, who has just returned from New York. Mr. and Mrs. Cannon furnished the musical program for the evening.

Members of the Verdugo Hills Post No. 228 visited at the Monte Vista Legion on Thursday evening in Tujunga. The visit was a surprise one, but the Monte Vista Buddies' Auxiliary provide a fine lunch at a moment's notice serving cake, coffee and doughnuts. Commander E. L. Sullivan, accompanied by Second Vice-Commander A. T. Blanford, Sergeant-at-Arms C. C. Adams and Comrades Barnet and Shafer, were the local legionnaires who made the trip.

CHEAPER ELECTRICITY

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Farm organizations advocate hydro-electric power development to produce cheaper electricity as an aid to the farmer and to reduce farm house drudgery, Gray Silver, legislation agent of the American Federated farm bureau, told the House irrigation committee, in advocating the Boulder dam construction and development of the Colorado river.

"Cheap electricity will solve fertilizer problems by permitting extraction of nitrates from the air and the production of fertilizers at lower costs than at present," he said.

TELLS RANCHERS TO BUY NO WATER

Mulholland Advises Against Deal With Owens River Valley Farmers

The ambitious plan of Owens river ranchers to sell out their holdings to San Fernando valley ranchers for $8,000,000 was punctured by William Mulholland, chief engineer of the Los Angeles water works bureau, at the meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce held in Pacoima Tuesday night.

Mr. Mulholland declared that in the first place the San Fernando valley ranchers would be very little, if any, better off if they owned all of the water holdings of the said Owens river ranchers. In the second place he said that the Owens river ranchers didn't have the water to sell, and in the third place he said that the aqueduct gets, through the process of seepage most of the water which the Owens river folks use.

The Owens river ranchers frowned on the offer of the San Fernando valley folks to pay them $450,000 for the use of part of their water for the present season, declaring that they could either take the $8,000,000 offer or nothing at all. Mr. Mulholland at Tuesday night's meeting advised them to do the latter, and suggested ways that the present water supplies could be so conserved as to offer the San Fernando valley ranchers a reasonable chance of growing a crop this season.

Tiger Freshmen Win Meet With L. A. High

The Occidental freshmen pulled a big surprise yesterday afternoon when they traveled over to Los Angeles High school and won a 62-to-51 victory over the Roman track team. Captain Shaver of the Tiger yearlings gathered sixteen markers for his team by taking two firsts and an equal number of seconds. Shaver copped both hurdle events and won second place in the high jump and broad jump.

The only exceptional time of the day was made by Broadhead, Oxy sprinter, who tore off a neat 23 seconds flat in the 220-yard dash, in spite of the weather conditions. Oxy won the relay, but the time was so slow that neither coach wanted to give out the official minutes. The frosh won eight firsts besides the relay, while the Romans won four firsts and made a clean sweep in the mile and shot events.

Portrait of Lincoln Will Be Exhibited

A striking portrait of Lincoln, which is to be placed in the window of the Glendale Music company on North Brand boulevard today as one of the number to be exhibited by the Art association, in celebration of Art Week, is the work of a noted portrait painter, Mrs. Nellie M. Horne, recently of Boston, who is making her home at present in Tujunga for the benefit of the health of her invalid daughter.

This portrait of Lincoln was painted from the life mask by Volk, that is now in the Oldroid's Museum in Washington, and was painted in the room where the great emancipator died. One of his friends, Major J. B. Mervyn, was her companion and assistant and pronounced it a speaking likeness. Among other noted Americans whose portraits have been painted by this artist was Edward Everett Hale.

Champ Denies Report He Will Promote Bout

LOS ANGELES, March 22.—Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, back in Los Angeles after a sojourn and operation in the east, declared today that all he had lent towards a match between Tommy Gibbons and Georges Carpentier was his moral support. He declared emphatically he was not interested in such a match financially. He declares he is fully recovered from the operation he underwent a few weeks ago.

"Floyd Fitzsimmons and I are great pals and during our recent visit we discussed a Gibbons-Carpentier bout," Dempsey said, "but outside of professional interest I am not connected with the match."

TRUSTEES WILL PICK LOCATION OF LEGION HOME

Choice Subject to Approval Of All Members; Citizens' Committee to Aid

Members of the board of trustees of Glendale Post No. 127, American Legion, will act as a location committee in selecting the site of the proposed Legion home, it was decided at the meeting of the post last night. The trustees will report back to the post when they have tentatively selected a site, and the Legion members will pass upon their recommendations.

Working with the trustees and such building and plans committees as may be appointed later, will be a committee composed of persons not members of the Legion and to be known as the citizens' committee. This committee will be asked to assist in making the plans and selecting the location, and Legion members feel that such a step will enable the people of Glendale to realize the new home is to be something more than a meeting place for the post.

Tickets Not In

A complete report on the benefit performance given last Wednesday night can not be made until all tickets remaining unsold have been turned in, Adjutant E. E. McWain announced at the meeting. Several expense statements are not in, he said. Members of the post holding unsold tickets are asked to check them in as soon as possible.

A joint meeting of the post and the auxiliary is scheduled for April 4. This will be an open meeting, with music, dancing and a program furnished by some of the Legion's talented members. Complete plans for this meeting will be announced later, it was said.

Commander Joseph A. Wilson presided at the meeting and thanked all members of the post who had worked to make the benefit performance a success.

Small Vessel Hit by Liner; No One Injured

NEW YORK, March 22.—Trans-Atlantic travelers were given a thrill today when the White Star liner Olympic collided with the steamer Fort St. George, which was racing to sea. The overhanging stern of the Olympic swept the deck of the smaller ship, knocking down and demolishing the lounge or smoking room of the Fort St. George.

No one was injured, so far as is known, although the lives of a score of passengers were endangered.

REJECT CANAL PLAN

WASHINGTON, March 22.—A proposed canal project in connection with the Colorado river development, aimed at irrigating 3,500,000 acres of land in Southwestern Arizona, was rejected today by a special board of engineers in a report to the department of the interior.

The promoters of the project estimated the cost at $290,000,000, but the engineers declared the cost would far exceed this amount and they condemned the whole undertaking as "inadvisable and unworthy of serious consideration."

HOW ARE YOU

going to stop Glendale from growing when Los Angeles is overflowing? Think this over, then ask the Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and Santa Fe why they are making up new trains and extra equipment and rushing them into the east. Do you suppose these men are guessing that the east is moving to California? They know. Therefore, you'll have to get busy and buy something. See these lots, all priced to sell, and well located:

Aged Petition Wanted To Ban Street Booze

DENVER, Mar. 21.—Swept away in a flood and missing since 1862, the minute book of the Denver City Council, containing official minutes of the city for 1860 and 1861, has been discovered by a bookdealer in New York and returned to the city's archives.

An excerpt of notes of a meeting of the City Council on October 8, 1860, when Denver had a population of approximately 2,000, contains a petition which reads:

"To the Legislative Council of the City of Denver:

"We, the merchants doing business on Blake street, petition your honorable body to prohibit from the streets and sidewalks all gambling and selling of liquor."

DEFEAT GIANTS

WINTERHAVEN, Fla., March 22.—Willie Kamm's smack in the tenth was the undoing of the Giants when it pushed Bill Barrett home from third and unknotted a four-all score. The National champions used everything in their attempt to stop the White Sox, who won, 5 to 4.

DRAMA SECTION OF CLUB PLANS TO STAGE PLAY

Feature of Convention Will Be Artistic Offering by Talented Cast

Tuesday Afternoon club women of the Drama department, of which Mrs. Max Lynn Green is curator, are to have a special part in the April convention in Glendale of the Los Angeles district, California Federation of Women's clubs, for they are to present the morality play, "The Second Shepherd's Play," as one of the feature events of the convention program.

The play, which represents the first period of the drama, will be given under the direction of Mrs. Green. The cast was announced at the department meeting yesterday afternoon and the first rehearsal will be held at 2:45 o'clock Monday afternoon at the clubhouse.

Cast of Characters

Included in the cast are: Appearing in the prologue, Mrs. W. E. Halstead; first shepherd, Mrs. W. L. Andrews; second shepherd, Mrs. A. L. Baird, third shepherd, Mrs. C. O. Kling; Mak, Mrs. Malvern Barker; Gill, Mak's wife, Mrs. Roger Bentley; angel, Mrs. W. F. Nash, Jr.; Mary, Mrs. Dwight Stevenson.

The department will also give its annual play April 4 and 5. They are to present Bernard Shaw's "You Never Can Tell."

At the meeting yesterday afternoon Mrs. Charles Temple and Mrs. Harry James were hostesses. Two plays were reviewed. Mrs. A. M. Hunt reviewed Owen Davis' "Icebound" and Miss Katherine Crow of the Cumnock School of Expression reviewed "Suppressed Desires," by Susan Glaspell.

ROXIE STINSON WEEPS ON STAND

voice broke and tears rolled down her cheeks.

"Who do you mean?"

"Attorney General Daugherty."

She then explained the statement of Attorney General Daugherty that she and a man named Al Fink had been registered at a Cleveland hotel as man and wife. She said she had gone to Cleveland to see Fink about a "business matter," and he had made reservtions for her. While they were having dinner that night, she said, she inquired how she was registered and Fink told her "under a fictitious name." Subsequently she learned that she was registered as his wife, she said, and immediately left the hotel. This was at 11 o'clock that night, she said.

Hays Tells About Sinclair's Donation

after I left the cabinet," said Hays, "and then I read about them in the newspapers."

Hays denied that the $1,600,000 deficit in the party treasury at the close of 1920 was liquidated by a donation of 75,000 shares of Sinclair oil stock.

Claims Story Untrue

"The story is not true," said Hays emphatically.

Senator Walsh read Hays a story appearing in the New York Times stating Sinclair had donated the stock.

"It's absolutely untrue," reiterated Hays. "There is nothing to these reports that the committee received 75,000 shares of stock from Sinclair. I cannot understand how a story could have been written without a basis of fact."

Hays thought the question of campaign contributions was "not relevant" to the inquiry.

Senator Stanfield, Republican of Oregon, agreed with him, protesting against questioning about campaign funds.

"How is this relevant to the oil inquiry?" asked Senator Bursum, Republican of New York.

"Well, if Mr. Sinclair did contribute 75,000 shares of stock and immediately thereafter secured a lease to Teapot Dome, I would consider it relevant," retorted Walsh.

Lacquer on Mah Jong Sets Is Poison Ivy

NEW YORK, March 22.—The malady manifest in local social circles recently is no longer a mystery.

Nor is credence given the theory that those itching palms have any psychological aspect—such as the desire to win.

The phenomena is due to poison ivy, and is not caused by the tiles, but by the lacquer on the cases!

Skin specialists and medical journals agree that the Oriental lacquer with which the cards are coated contains the juice of poison ivy and that the irritating propensities may lie latent for so much as 400 or 500 years.

FRANCE'S ECONOMIC SITUATION IS 'DEPRESSING'

Freed From Sixth Wife, Waiting for Leap Year Bride

SAN FRANCISCO, March 22.—Freed by divorce from his sixth wife, Dr. Gabor Kingstone, San Francisco's marrying chiropodist, was awaiting leap year proposals today. He said he hoped he'd be able to find the kind of a wife he wanted in that way. He summed up his matrimonial experiences as follows:

"No. 1 was a true love. She died after fourteen years of happiness.

"No. 2 was 16, and taught me youth is fickle.

"No. 3 showed me how to spend money faster than it can be made.

"No 4 was beautiful, but not truthful. She gave her wrong name.

"No. 5 wanted too many fine clothes.

"No. 6 had the automobile habit—more expensive than clothes."

No. 7, Dr. Kingstone says, must have bobbed hair and be up to the minute, "but not too young."

Oil Magnate Holds Back His Testimony

asked Sinclair about testimony given previously by Fred G. Bonfils, editor of the Denver Post.

"I decline to answer on advice of counsel," replied Sinclair.

Senator Walsh then shot numerous questions at Sinclair, who sat conversing with his counsel, Martin W. Littleton.

Invariably the oil man replied, "I decline to answer on the advice of counsel and on the same ground as given in my statement."

Sinclair then was excused.

After an executive session the committee decided to make a formal report to the Senate on Sinclair's refusal to testify.

Links Daugherty

Sensational testimony linking Attorney-General Harry M. Daugherty with a "deal" at the Chicago convention to secure the nomination of Warren G. Harding by promising Jake Hamon, Oklahoma oil man and politician, a cabinet post, and directly connecting the attorney-general with some of the liquor "deals" engineered by the late Jesse W. Smith, was today adduced by the Senate investigating committee from Roxie Stinson, Smith's divorced wife.

Attacks Roosevelt

Assistant Secretary of the Navy Theodore Roosevelt and his brother, Archie Roosevelt, were bitterly assailed this afternoon by Sinclair in a formal statement.

Commenting on the testimony of Archie Roosevelt before the Senate public lands committee concerning alleged checks for $68,000, payable to the foreman of the ranch of Ex-Secretary of Interior Albert B. Fall, and supposed to have been in the possession of G. D. Wahlberg, Sinclair said:

"I have read the testimony of Wahlberg and I think the evidence clearly shows that Wahlberg, to use a common expression, was framed by the Roosevelts."

Joe Miller was never known to utter a jest and his demeanor was so grave that friends, in jest, ascribed every new joke to him.

GIRL REVIVALIST WINS BIG FIGHT

Rheba Crawford Victor In Row With Orthodox Congregation

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 22.—Miss Rheba Crawford, the "Angel of Broadway," has met with practically the same difficulties in trying to hold revival services here as she met with in New York. But she has conducted her fight with that same winning smile that captivated Broadway.

There is no law here prohibiting the holding of revival meetings, but there is a fire ordinance prohibiting the erection of tents. Miss Crawford has been conducting a revival in a tent just off Central avenue.

Taking advantage of this ordinance to accomplish its aims, the local Ministerial association got together the other day and passed a resolution requesting the commissioners to have traveling preachers conform to the same fire regulations and other regulations imposed upon the local churches. This, in effect, was considered a direct petition to prevent the Salvation lassie from holding forth in her big tent at Central avenue.

A vigorous protest against the efforts of the city commission to close Miss Crawford's tent revival was made. A crowd of her supporters, estimated at 500 men and women, marched through the business section of St. Petersburg to the City Hall, where an indignation meeting was held. After heated arguments pro and con the meeting ended with the singing of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

Whether it was a result of Miss Crawford's winning smile, or of the protest of her supporters, she continued to hold forth in the big tent at Central avenue.

Swallows Opium When Arrested, Dies Later

RENO, Nev., March 22.—Gee Foo fooled the law, but he died to do it.

Wafted up from the smell of hop and joss of Reno's Chinatown recently came the strange tale of Gee Foo's death.

A warning from federal narcotic agents in San Francisco that a Chinese drug peddler, carrying a quantity of "dope," would arrive on Train No. 6, reached Reno several hours in advance of Gee Foo.

Police arrested him. In his possession they found scales for weighing opium, but no drugs. He was freed.

Foo, sick, sought refuge in Chinatown. Several hours later he died in agony. A physician declared death was due to narcotic poisoning.

Gee Foo had swallowed the "evidence."

ONE DEAD, 3 HURT

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Cal., March 22.—Will Selzer, 15-year-old high school boy, was killed; Fletcher Dart, 12, received a possible fracture of the skull and may die; Stanley Cook, 17, sustained severe lacerations, and Wilfred Lake, 16, a badly mutilated hand, as the result of an automobile accident near Garden Grove last night.

"Bring your babies to church" is a feature of the religious revival in Belfast.

British at Last Decide Water Is Useful to Drink

LONDON, March 22.—Water has at last been officially recognized in London as a drink.

It is easy to get any other kind of beverage in London restaurants, but it is next to impossible to get a waiter to bring you a glass of water. Some persons may pertinently inquire why anyone should want water with so many other kinds of drinks so readily available, but the fact remains that there are occasional customers who crave a draught of "nature's own" thirst quencher, and they have a tough time getting it.

The licensing justices of St. Anne's and St. James', however, have kicked the old anti-water tradition into the discard. In granting a license to Chong Choy to operate a Chinese cafe they gave him the privilege of selling wine and beer, but stipulated that "facilities must be given to customers to drink water."

So far as is known, this action of the justices creates a precedent. Perhaps other restaurants will fall into line, but it is likely that Chong Choy's will become the only restaurant in London famous for its drinking water.

State Police Strong Factor In Protection

HARTFORD, Conn., March 22.—Connecticut's state constabulary, youngest outfit of the sort in the country, and officially known as the Connecticut state police, are doing their part in making rural communities safer for their residents. Incidentally, in the month of January the troopers rounded up an organized gang of automobile thieves and returned to the rightful owners property valued at more than $44,000.

In addition, the troopers made 229 arrests, nearly one-half being reckless drivers on country roads; they patrolled more than 85,000 miles of highway, examined a thousand applicants for motor vehicle licenses, inspected hundreds of motion theatre places to see that safety laws were being observed, and then investigated 500 alleged violations of weights-and-measures laws. Furthermore, they ran down some murder mysteries.

TOURIST RAIL RATES

Announcement is made by the Union Pacific city office at 129 South Brand boulevard that the eastbound summer tourist rates will go into effect this year on May 22. Westbound, they begin on May 15, thus enabling the officials to collect sufficient equipment at this end to take care of the first rush comfortably. An unusually heavy movement is being arranged for, as inquiries this year exceed those of any previous season at so early a date.

LONE BANDIT SLAIN

BURLINGAME, Cal., March 22.—Efforts to identify the lone bandit who was shot and killed during a gun battle here early today by Chief of Police John J. Harper and a posse of deputies, after they had trailed him through the grounds of several fashionable residences, proved unavailing it was announced.

PLAN DRIVE TO RAISE $600 FOR SCOUT BUDGET

La Crescenta Supporters to Launch Campaign for Share of Total

The year's budget for the Verdugo Hills Boy Scout council is $9200 and at a campfire last night in La Crescenta for the La Crescenta and Montrose district of the council, A. V. Adkins, head of the financial department for that district, announced that their quota is $600 and will be raised by a financial drive to be held next week.

M. S. Collins, prominent in Montrose affairs, spoke heartily in favor of the budget and Boy Scout movement, and stated that the drive for funds beginning today will bring the desired amount.

Committee Named

The committee in charge of the drive are Ben Robison, A. V. Adkins, M. S. Collins, A. C. Cox, C. A. Haskins, Dr. L. Johns and Mr. Clapp.

There were over sixty boys and adults at the campfire last night. Harvey R. Cheesman, Scout executive, gave a talk on the international Scout movement and program and stated that the Montrose-La Crescenta district is one of the five districts of the Verdugo Hills council. He outlined the camping program for the year including the spring week-end camps, Easter vacation trip to the Mexican border, summer camp at Catalina, summer trip to the High Sierras, fall week-end camps and Christmas camp.

Plan New Troops

He also outlined plans for the formation of a new troop of Scouts in Montrose. He praised the fine work done by Scoutmaster Angier, who was later introduced and told of his work in Montrose.

Late in the evening Mr. Cheesman entertained with some fine stories and as the final event of the evening marshmallows were roasted over the campfire.

BRITISH, FRENCH SCIENTISTS ROW

Argument Over Egypt Stone Carried Down Through Past History

CHICAGO, March 22.—More than a century ago, a French officer with Napoleon's forces stumbled over a stone covered with strange inscriptions in the sands of Egypt; and as a result the secret of the true significance of the tomb of King Tut-Ankh-Amen may be lost to the world forever.

This is the belief of Prof. D. D. Luckenbill, of the Oriental Institute, University of Chicago. He claims the recent squabble between Howard Carter, British scientist, and the Egyptian Government, over the rights of exploring the tomb of the Pharaoh dates back to this incident, in 1799, and is a climax of years of smoldering nationalistic hatred.

This century of jealousy between French and British scientists had its inception in French pique over the possession by the British of the famous Rosetta stone, originally discovered by a Frenchman with Napoleon's forces, Prof. Luckenbill claims. The stone, which provides a key to the translation of the Egyptian language, was found in 1779. It was kept in Alexandria. When that city was ceded to the British in 1801 they acquired the stone, and it since has rested in a British museum.

The French, Prof. Luckenbill asserts, have seized upon the Carter expedition as a means of avenging the old wrong and are stirring up the present Egyptian government against Carter and his force of archaeologists.

Turkish Poet Would Discard Famed Fez

CONSTANTINOPLE, Mar. 22—Turkish society is torn in twain over the problem of whether or not the fez shall continue to be worn as the national headgear of the male members of the Turkish race.

The trouble began with Yahia Kemal Bey, Turkish poet and Deputy for Kirshehir, issuing an appeal "to all patriotic citizens" to discontinue wearing the tassel on their headgear, characterizing the tassel as an "invention of the old Empire and an attribute of the now defunct Ottoman system."

When worn without the tassel the fez becomes a "kalpak," or tasselless fez, and although not generally worn by the public heretofore this form of headgear has been very popular among the members of the Nationalist party, Mustapha Kemal Pasha, leader of the party and president of the assembly, never wearing anything but the fez as his headgear.

Several of the newspapers are endeavoring to kill the poet's appeal by ridiculing him. An ever-increasing number of people are to be seen on the sidewalks wearing the "kalpak."

Famous Dog Actor To Appear Daily In Gateway's Show

STRONGHEART, Famous Dog Actor, That Appears in "The Love Master," at the Gateway Theatre for Three Days.

One of the biggest attractions ever offered at the Gateway theatre, on South San Frenando road, appears there tomorrow, starting a three-day run, when "The Love Master" will be presented, with Strongheart, the wonder dog of the screen, playing an important part in a thrilling drama of romance and adventure in the land of eternal snow.

In addition, an added feature will be "King D.," the famous police dog actor, and double for Strongheart, that will make a personal appearance at each presentation of the picture, accompanied by his trainer and master.

LETHAL GAS NOT FATAL, IS CLAIM

Army Doctor Would Revive Men Placed In Nevada Death Chamber

RENO, Nev., March 22.—Disputing the power of the most deadly gas known to scientists, an army medical officer proposes to defy death and bring to life an executed murderer officially pronounced dead.

Hydrocyanic gas, recently used in this state in the world's first lethal gas execution, is not as deadly as it has been heralded and resuscitation of its victims is sometimes an easy task, according to Major D. C. Turner, United States Medical Reserve Corps, attached to the United States Veterans' Bureau here.

Major Turner, who claims, had he been given a chance, he could have revived the first victim of Nevada's gas-death execution law, plans to attempt to prove his claims if another condemned person is gassed to death.

"Quite often this hydrocyanic gas is not fatal," said Major Turner. "It is more fatal to some persons than others. I have revived several persons who had been given up for dead after inhaling its death-dealing fumes."

Tried On Gee Jon

Armed with a gasmask, a lung-motor and a determination to revive Gee Jon, Chinese tong slayer, who was executed at Carson City in the first hydrocyanic gas death, the major appeared on the execution scene and begged permission to attempt to bring the man from the Valley of Death. Gee Jon's bunched body, strapped by the waist, chest, feet and hands to the "eternity" chair, was held in the death chamber for more than two hours and forty-five minutes after he was believed to have died under the lethal fumes.

"If the body of the Chinese had been given me within ten minutes after the hand of Death struck him down in the 'eternity' chair I would have been able to revive him," declared Major Turner. "As it was, rigor mortis had started to set in when he was pronounced dead by Dr. Huffaker, the prison physician.

"For many years I have had experience with cyanide deaths, which are similar to the fate met by Gee Jon. The hydrocyanic gas kills by depressing the respiratory organs. It is a motor depressant. With a lung motor and the Schaeffer method of artificial respiration I am certain I can revive a man executed under the Nevada law, if his body is placed before me while still warm."

Claims Disputed

Governor James G. Scrugham, of Nevada, to whom Major Turner made a report of the lethal-gas execution, challenged his claims to revive a man after the body is taken from the gas tomb. The chief executive told the army major that electrocution had the same effect as lethalization and that he doubted if artificial respiration would "restore life."

Major Turner said he intended to make application to the Nevada state prison board and Warden Denver S. Dickerson to make his attempt to "bring the dead to life" at the next gas execution.

Airplane Motor That Burns Kerosene Used

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 22.—A steam-propelled seaplane, using kerosene as fuel, is the plan of Thomas K. Blount, late of Honduras.

So strongly does he believe in his plan that he is investing the savings of two years in a steam radial seaplane engine. When the engine is completed, Blount will install it in a seaplane and attempt a trial flight to Honduras. If he reaches Honduras he announces his intention to experiment with charcoal as a fuel instead of kerosene, which he will use in the first trial flight.

For the better part of the last twenty years Blount was a locomotive engineer of the United Fruit company in Honduras.

Fuel economy is the principal feature proposed in his new engine. The idea is not a new one, Blount explained, for a steamplane already has been made and flown successfully in San Francisco.

"The people did not have faith in them," was the reason he gave why the steam airplane engine has not become commercialized.

Blount expects to fly his steamplane at half the present cost of flying. He states that if the engine is successful he has orders for many of them.

ITHACA, N. Y., March 22.—Because fair roomers in certai Cornell university women's dormitories neglected to pull down shades on the windows whe about to retire at night, protest have been made by officials of th Y. M. C. A., which is directly opposite one of the dormitories i question.

UNDERMINES MORALE OF DRIVERS

Erection of Monuments and Playing of Dirges Is Scored at Meet

By WILLIAM J. HUSKE
For International News Service

CLEVELAND, Mar. 22.—Morale of the drivers of automobiles is being undermined through the playing of dirges and the painting of motor transportation as a death-dealing instrument, Fred H. Caley, executive secretary of the National Motorists' Association, declared here recently.

Caley said the erection of monuments to the memory of children killed in traffic accidents, as was done recently in St. Louis, was the "most fanatical safety plan" conceived in recent years.

"Any city that sanctions the erection and dedication of such a monument is backsliding in safety work," Caley said. "If the fatality rate is so alarming, the cost of the memorial should be invested in removing tangible causes of fatalities, educating the police to stop encouraging motorists to hurry at the crossings, keeping children off the streets and lighting the streets. These monuments, if the truth were admitted, are memorials to the stupidity displayed in accident prevention."

Co-operation Needed

Automobile drivers, Caley said, are perfectly well aware of the necessity of preserving the lives of children and other people. He added that what is needed "is a little co-operation from authorities and the general public."

Evils in present traffic control, elimination of which, Caley said, would reduce the mortality and accident rate, were:

One—Elimination of part time traffic officers charged with the protection of children at schools.

Two—Replacing Boy Scouts, who serve as traffic officers at schools in some cities, with regular police officers.

Three—Half lighted streets.

"There is too much loose thinking in the accident question, Caley continued, "and not enough action.

Hypocrisy Charged

"Ignoring facts leads to hypocrisy and fanaticism. An es-

Seven Seconds Are Saved by Beating Train at Crossing

How much time do you save by racing over a crossing ahead of an express train?

This debatable question is answered by a railway journal which says: "An express train crosses a highway in about seven seconds, therefore, by rushing across the railroad track just ahead of the engine, the result will be seven seconds saved. Do this nine times a day and a driver has saved a fraction over a whole minute."

Trying to save a fraction of a minute by beating a train has cost many lives; rendered useless forever many limbs, and reduced to unrepairable wreckage hundreds of cars, it is pointed out by the public safety department of the Automobile Club of Southern California. Careful motorists naturally ask the question: is the saving of seven seconds worth the risk?

Letter System Used to Distinguish Cars

In Pennsylvania, automobile license plates, with the exception of plates for passenger cars, bear certain distinguishing letters, as well as numerals. The numbers on state-owned cars are followed by the letter "S." On plates issued to manufacturers or dealers the numerals are preceded by the letter "X."

The numerals on tags for omnibuses or cars used for transportation of passengers for hire are preceded by the letter "O." Plates for trailers and semi-trailers bear the letters "TT."

Insurance Rates High On Cars In New York

Automobile owners in this country spent $294,000,000 for insurance on their cars last year. This is an average of only $21 a year for every motor vehicle, or about one-seventh of the cost of full insurance for a medium-priced car in New York, for example, in which city $150 covers just a moderate amount of public liability insurance, as well as the usual theft and fire protection.

AFTER WASHING

Always lubricate spring shackles after washing the car or after driving over wet roads.

200 MILLION FOR ROADS REQUIRED

State Highway Chief Tells Demand for Definite Financing Plan

An additional $200,000,000 will be required to complete the 840-mile California highway system, declares Harvey M. Toy, chairman of the state highway commission, in a statement issued to the people of California regarding the road situation. Louis Everding and Nelson T. Edwards, mmebers of the commission, together with R. M. Morton, state highway engineer, and W. F. Mixon, secretary, concur in the statement, which follows:

"The highways of the state belong to the people and must be paid for by the people. The time is not far distant when the problem of financing state highway construction in California must be met squarely and solved in accordance with sound business principles.

"There must be general appreciation of this fact, followed by action, if construction is to continue.

"Raising of revenue is not a function of the state highway commission. It is the business of the legislature and the people. The highway commission and the state highway engineer wish to say that they have not advocated, and are not now seeking to have enacted any particular scheme of taxation. We are not proposing any plan and have no plan to propose.

Committee Is Named

"The last legislature, realizing an inevitable situation, provided for the appointment of a special advisory committee to investigate the state highway situation and make recommendations to the 1925 session. The appointment of this committee was recently announced by the governor.

"The preparing of a financing plan for future state highway work is one of the principal duties of the committee. In view of the task to be undertaken by this advisory body, the commission and the state highway engineer have refrained from initiating or sponsoring any scheme for future financing.

"Members of the commission and the state highway engineer

Number of Autos in Use Increased During Past Year

On December 31, 1923, there were 15,092,177 motor vehicles in use in the United States, according to statistics collected by the bureau of public roads of the United States Department of Agriculture. During the past year the number registered increased by 2,853,802 vehicles, a greater increase than in any preceding year.

This increase which is 187,000 registrations greater than the gain in any other year means that the public demand for road improvement, already strong, will be strengthened and a more general use of the road, particularly in a business and commercial way, will result. As indicative of the commercial trend motor truck registrations now total over one and one-half millions, the hundred thousand mark having been passed in New York, Ohio and Illinois, and the fifty thousand mark in Indiana, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

OBEY SIGNS, AUTOISTS WARNED

Penalty Awaits Driver Who Fails to Pay Heed to Street Warnings

Do you read the signs on the pavement?

Everyone, more or less, claims to be reading the signs of the times and a few newspapers and magazines. But none of these will prevent accidents, while reading the signs on the pavement aid in ending slaughter of children, damage to property and injury to self.

Signs on the pavement are for the guidance of every person in traffic, whether driver or pedestrian or rear seat czar.

Watch 'Stop' Signs

Here are a few to read carefully to prevent accident, arrest, fines, jail and death.

SCHOOL STOP! These are straight across the street in front of schools. Come to a dead stop between hours of 7:30 a. m. and 4:30 p. m. on all days except Saturday, Sunday and holidays.

BOULEVARD STOP! These are on every street intersecting Figueroa from Washington south, Wilshire boulevard and Mission road. If you don't know these thoroughfares, watch closely for the signs on the pavement.

SAFETY ZONES! Marked sometimes with buttons instead of lines. KEEP OUT of them at all times, even if no persons are occupying them. Go to the left, if necessary, but do NOT drive through them. This is against the law.

CENTER LINES! Marked to keep drivers to the right. Do not drive to the left of these lines.

CURVE LINES! To prevent accident on curves these lines mark safety limits.

Some Other Signs

Other signs on the pavement are direction arrows, loading zones, no parking zones, etc. These are supplementary to metal signs erected wherever needed by the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Hence, keep a weather eye working if you want to dodge grief, warns the safety department of the Automobile Club.

Helpful Suggestions on Cleaning Your Car

When cleaning a car, always begin from the inside and work out, and from the top and work down. Working from the top down, the body, fenders and hood should be washed, and after that the wheels, frames, springs and axles. The body should be completely finished before the running gear is touched. This is because the body has a relatively clean surface with delicate varnish, highly polished, whereas the running gear is always dirtier, has a tougher varnish and the luster is not as fine.

KEEP HOOD BRIGHT

Because of the extremes of temperature to which it is subjected the hood of a car dulls quickly. Hence it is well to wipe off the hood carefully after a run in the rain, because moisture dries rapidly on the bonnet and usually spots it, ruining the fine finish in time.

TROUBLE KIT NEEDED ON ALL CARS

Tools for Emergency Use Will Save Delay in Case of Accident

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Emergency essentials which every motorist should carry in order to avoid inconvenient or dangerous delays on the road, are described in a statement issued today by M. O. Eldridge, of Washington, executive chairman of the American Automobile Association.

"With the new year many drivers are thinking of their cars and of the reconditioning necessary to put them in first-class running order for the spring," says Mr. Eldridge. "In this connection special attention should be given to the making up of a kit for emergency use while on the road. The carrying of the few essentials listed here will avoid inconvenient delays and sometimes serious accidents. It is surprising how many motorists take the road while lacking equipment which may readily become more important to them than a supply of gasoline or a spare tire.

What Is Needed

"The following should be in the car of every motorist at all times, in addition to the regular tool-kit equipment:

"1. A pair of pliers. These will be found very useful in opening vacuum tanks, tightening bolts and making adjustments to the motor.

"2. A pocket flashlight with extra battery cells. For making all kinds of repairs and adjustments after dark a good flashlight is invaluable. It is also useful in ascertaining the amount of gasoline in the tank, the reading of road signs, and working on tires, etc.

"3. A section of towing rope. Expensive tows may often be avoided if a light, compact cable be at hand when the motor dies or heavy mud is encountered. Passing motorists will often help if a tow rope is available.

Wrench Saves Hands

"4. A spark plug socket wrench. Many drivers carry extra plugs, but no good wrench to remove the damaged plug and insert the spare.

"5. A set of tire chains. The dangers of slippery roads and heavy mud will be reduced to a minimum if chains are applied when needed.

"6. A tire pump. With the aid of a good pump much tire trouble and the ruining of tubes by driving them flat may be avoided.

"7. A tire gauge. Maintaining the right air-pressure at all times will go far to prolong the life of tires.

"8. Some kind of folding water bucket for refilling the radiator.

"This list might be extended indefinitely, but the motorist who carries these essentials whenever he starts out in his car will find he has made provision for the majority of hazards encountered while driving."

Canadian Auto Club Will Aid Motorists

Southern California motorists planning to tour in Canada next summer will find improved conditions in their northern ramblings, according to information reaching the Automobile Club of Southern California. The Automobile Club of Western Canada has formed an agreement which is expected to provide a service to tourists similar to that offered by the many branches of the Southern California organization.

The new Canadian organization is known as the Automobile Club of British Columbia and has fourteen branches. An extensive program has been mapped out for 1924 of road signing, map service, tourists' camp sites, and other aids to visiting motorists. One of the most interesting activities of the Canadian club to motorists in this country is the success of its efforts with the Canadian government to obtain extension of the time limit for touring permits for a term of six months instead of the three months previously in effect.

It is believed that with the paved highways completed from Southern California straight through along the Pacific shores to Canada there will be a large number of motor parties from this section tour the neighboring country on the north next summer.

BROKEN GEAR TEETH

Gear teeth in the transmission are sometimes broken off by throwing in the clutch too suddenly, by shifting speeds rapidly when the engine and car speeds are not equal, or by accidentally shifting into reverse when the car is moving forward.

Must Not Conceal License Plates Behind Bumper

More motorists than ever before are violating the state law relative to view of the licenses, if reports received by the Automobile Club of Southern California are correct. Most of the violations are innocently brought about and unnoticed by the vehicle owners, who are none the less culpable. The cause is in placing bumpers on a car without observing the effect on the visibility of the license numbers.

Motorists are being warned by the auto club to make sure their license numbers are not obscured by bumpers or any other accessory. Ignorance of the law is no excuse in court.

Defective Wiring One Big Cause of Trouble

Electrical testing is much the same as any other kind of testing, only worse, because, though the results of a failure may be seen, the cause of the failure is sometimes difficult to find. The usual cause of electrical failure is defects in the wiring, which are classed as either open circuits or short circuits. The distinction between the two may be stated as follows: an open circuit is one in which the path of the current is broken, as in the case of a broken wire, while a short circuit is one in which the path of the current is deflected, or thrown from its intended path, as in the case of a bare wire touching the frame. A broken circuit is difficult to find in covered wire, as the copper wire may be broken without showing any indication of a break in the insulation. A short circuit is not so difficult to locate, as the seat of the trouble will be indicated by a frayed or worn portion in the insulation. In either case, the quickest way to locate the trouble is by a process of elimination, starting at a given point, such as the battery, and testing each line separately, eliminating those which test clear.

Use Vacuum Cleaner on Auto Floor Mats

Never shake floor mats. They should be either brushed or run over by a vacuum cleaner. The practice of shaking a floor mat, after the fashion of shaking a rug, rips off the binding of the edge.

GREAT INCREASE

Automobiles in Los Angeles county have increased from 43,099 in 1914 to 358,000 in 1923—eight times the former number, in nine years.

W. L. TWINING'S BIG SIX STUDEBAKER SEDAN LEADS WAY ON IMPERIAL TRIP

Realtor Has It Easy While Mayor Robinson Or Mrs. Twining Takes Turns At Wheel In Caravan To Valley and Return

By GIL A. COWAN
Of The Evening News Staff.

There is a story of a motor trip to El Centro on the part of several Glendale realtors which has only been half printed, it is said. They attended the Imperial Valley farm lands conference. W. L. Twining, who tells of it today, was only a passenger in his own car. Mrs. Twining and Mayor Spencer Robinson were there as pilots. Therefore, he has no criticism to fear for making the most speed out of his Big Six Studebaker sedan, which is his seventh Studebaker by the way.

Seems that Peter Hanson, president of the Glendale Realty Board, was to follow the mayor's piloting and Charles B. Guthrie was to catch up with them, but he forgot he had a new car which would do only 25 or 30 per. He also had The Glendale Evening News representative and some other guests, who enjoyed the scenery more than the ozone.

"Yes, we gave Pete Hanson a lesson in speed," chuckled Mr. Twining. "Or he gave us a les-

Sedan Longevity Increased by Balloon Tires

BALLOON tires enlist low-pressure air to cushion the passengers from bumps and road shocks. They also cushion vital power units against the same adverse conditions.

The shock-free cradling of power units in a double frame has always been a Reo feature, and a vital reason for Reo chassis longevity. Balloon tires greatly promote it.

Mechanical goodness is further emphasized by the famous Reo high-powered six-cylinder engine. Intake valves in head and exhaust valves at side,—short crankshaft, turning in four large bearings and balanced dynamically and statically,—ground, glass-smooth cylinders with aluminum alloy pistons,—improved carburetion,—these are typical of many features that make Reo motordom's most enduring "six."

200 MILLION FOR ROADS REQUIRED

have often been invited to discuss highway matters before various organizations.

"In such discussions, we have endeavored to state the problems to be met: the completion of the state highway system, and the necessity of financing a future outlay of at least $200,000,000. We have mentioned various ways by which this sum might be raised and have suggested the possibility of bond issues or increases in motor vehicle fees and the gasoline tax.

"These statements have been for the purpose of stimulating discussion and have not been in advocacy of any particular plan.

Funds Nearly Exhausted

"At the present time, state highway bond funds are nearing exhaustion. Funds available for primary construction, amounting to some $11,000,000, are, in most part, federal aid funds accruing to the state from the federal government, as the state's share of the cost of co-operative projects already financed or under way.

"Maintenance and reconstruction funds are provided by the state's half of the motor vehicle fees and the gasoline tax. The other half goes to the counties. Funds from this source, under present laws, for many years, will be required for imperative reconstruction work.

"The state's share of motor vehicle fees and gasoline tax funds cannot be used for new construction, and, when federal aid funds are exhausted, primary construction will stop unless additional funds from some source are provided.

There should be a general appreciation of the fact that the availability of gasoline tax and motor vehicle funds is limited by law, and, furthermore, that all funds now coming from these sources are urgently needed for maintenance, for widening and thickening existing highways and pavements.

Bonds Total $70,000,000

"State highway bonds sold to date total $70,000,000. It will be 1965 before the state completes payment of the interest and principle on these bonds, and the ultimate total cost to the people will be some $150,000,000. The peak of annual payments on these bonds will be reached within the next two or three years when it will amount to approximately $5,000,000. It will then decrease gradually to 1965.

"This, and many other facts, will be taken into consideration by the committee appointed by the governor.

"We do not believe California desires state highway construction to stop. Widespread discussion of the situation will help the investigating committee to formulate a program that will have back of it the intelligent understanding and support of public opinion."

OIL-VAC SYSTEM MAXWELL FEATURE

Shuts Off Gasoline Flow as Oil in Engine Drops to Low Levels

The Oil-Vac system that is embodied in the 1924 Maxwell cars as an exclusive feature is one method of controlling the flow of gasoline to the carburetor that may be regarded as being completely fool-proof, says Lyman P. Clark, of the Glendale Motor Car Co., 124 West Colorado street, Maxwell, Chalmers and Chrysler distributors.

"When the supply of oil in the motor gets so low that the engine would be seriously injured by any further use," Mr. Clark explains, "the Oil-Vac system automatically shuts off the flow of gasoline and prevents the car from running. The Oil-Vac system operates from the oil pump, instead of from the manifold, and when the pump loses its suction and the consequent lack of oil develops in the motor, the vacuum tank refuses to supply any more gasoline until the lack of oil is overcome."

As an instance of the manner in which the Oil-Vac system effectually prevents the operation of a car in which the oil has run low, Mr. Clark relates the case of a Maxwell owner who had been using a new car for two months, running it 2,000 miles in that time on the original supply of oil, who called for help when he found himself unable to start his car. Investigation showed that there was plenty of gasoline in the tank, but the oil had reached a level where further running of the car would inevitably have resulted in burned-out bearings, and the vacuum tank automatically shut off the gasoline, rendering it impossible to drive the car until the motor had been supplied with more lubricant. In this instance the crankcase was less than one-quarter full of oil, which is regarded as being beyond the danger point.

The Oil-Vac system, Mr. Clark declares, is only one of the exclusive features of the Maxwell car, adopted after exhaustive tests to insure the building of a car that would combine the maximum of driving comfort with absolutely reliable engineering to safeguard the motorist at every point.

GOOD YEAR AHEAD PREDICTS DEALER

Reo Agent Looks for Banner Season on Standard Makes of Cars

The feeling that 1924 will be a banner year for the standard, established make of motor car and commercial vehicle, which prevailed at the start of the new year among the veterans of the automotive industry, is being borne out in detail by reports coming in from all over the territory, according to those in close touch with both retail and wholesale fields, according to R. C. Hennessy, of the Reo Motor Company of California, 124-126 South Orange street, local dealer.

Reports on sales volume in the automotive line and on general conditions of business throughout California and Arizona show that this year has opened auspiciously, according to these officials.

"Our company now has branches located in Oakland, San Francisco, Sacramento, Stockton and Phoenix, in addition to those in Los Angeles county," says Mr. Hennessy. "From every one of them reports show a healthy gain over past records and executives in charge declare that the outlook for further gains in business are of the very best.

"Perhaps there is no better indication of this fact than in the tremendous demand for Reos fitted with the new balloon tire equipment at these branches. Branch managers say they are unable to keep any of these cars in stock and that they are taking orders for later delivery, with reports from Lansing, where the big Reo factory is located, that the demand for this equipment is so heavy that there will be a delay of from ten days to two weeks in almost every case in the shipment of these cars."

WHEN STARTER FAILS

As the starting motor takes its current from the storage battery, it sometimes happens that these brushes for various reasons are not making the proper contact, and this means more or less failure of the system. When trouble arises in this system these brushes should be carefully examined.

WIN SUPPORT BY HIGH CLASS WORK

Farmer Brothers Appreciate Patronage of Local Chevrolet Buyers

The generous support that has been accorded Farmer Brothers, Chevrolet agents at 1600 South San Fernando road, by the people of Glendale, has won the appreciation of the members of the firm, who feel that they have prospered far in excess of their hopes. Much of this support, they believe, has come to them because of the class of service they render to their clients, and ever since they opened their shop and their agency they have specialized on service that spelled satisfaction to their rapidly growing trade.

At all times they have insisted that the client's interests be placed first, and it is on this satisfaction that they have built a business that is steadily growing from week to week.

In addition to their sales department Farmer Brothers maintain a staff of expert mechanics who know Chevrolet cars from every angle, and they can get to the heart of any trouble at a minimum of trouble and expense to the customer.

USE AND ABUSE

A driver should keep his foot off the clutch pedal unless he is shifting gears. Unnecessary pressure on the clutch wears the clutch mechanism, makes the clutch surfaces smooth, and may cause the clutch to overheat.

FEBRUARY SALES SET NEW RECORD

Introduction of New Six Is Important Factor in Increase Shown

In the month of February the Olds Motor Works broke all previous sales records for a single month. February sales exceeded those of January, previous high month, by over 1300 cars. The figures show an increase of 340 per cent over February, 1923, and 220 per cent oer February, 1919, next highest February, says C. H. Hunter, 208 West Broadway, local dealer.

During the five-month period starting with October 1, the time when the new Oldsmobile Six was introduced, the number of cars sold was greater than the total for the entire year 1923. It also exceeded the total figures for the same five-month period a year ago by almost 26000 cars and bettered the next highest similar period—1911-20—by over 20,000 cars.

In fact, since the introduction of the new Six each month's sales have exceeded the previous month's figures by a wide margin. Production plans for the remainder of 1924 call for a total figure for the year 300 per cent greater than any previous year in Oldsmobile's 27 years of manufacturing experience.

Undermining Morale of Autoists, Claim

timate of deaths in the United States during the first ten months of 1923 places the figure at 1,325,000, of which but 16,000 are said to be due to motor vehicle traffic. This indicates clearly that there are many greater causes of death. But do we witness the dedication of monuments to the memory of those who are victims to Bright's disease or tuberculosis?"

"On the contrary, we find scientists, society and the public investing thought, energy and resources in the removal of the causes of such diseases.

"The same attitude must be taken generally towards traffic deaths and accidents. Then we will find a decreasing number of accidents with a decreasing number of fatalities."

Excessive Use of Oil Is Bad for Engines

Too much oil in a car will cause the engine to smoke; it soots up the plugs, making the engine miss explosions; it accumulates in the head of the cylinders, causing pregnition and knocking; it makes the valves leak and lose compression and power and makes the engine overheat, which causes a further loss of power. Bluish white smoke pouring from the exhaust pipe is a symptom of trouble which is approaching, slowly but inevitably.

Find Body Finish Is Injured by Cold Snap

Sudden transition from a warm garage to near zero temperatures on the streets is the cause of many a ruined paint job. The cold air gets in its work by shrinking the metal of the body. The paint does not shrink as fast, causing cracks and peeling paint.

In unusually cold weather it is best to keep the garage temperature just above freezing and be a little more careful about warming the motor. It will prevent a ruined body finish.

USES FORDS FOR BANDIT CHASERS

Gen. Butler to Have Ninety Armed Runabouts in Police Service

Armored Ford cars as bandit chasers are the latest police innovation.

Gen. Smedley D. Butler, Philadelphia's dynamic commissioner of public safety, is the man who introduced them.

Before he took office a few weeks back, the Philadelphia city council voted General Butler $5,000 with which to purchase an automobile for his personal use.

But when salesmen for high-priced cars appeared and tried to interest him, he made it plain that he intended to spend the money in purchasing small, light cars for use as bandit chasers by the police department.

The Ford runabout was his choice and it wasn't long before an enterprising Ford salesman had a car ready for the General's inspection.

Now the Philadelphia police have six of these armored Ford cars and under General Butler's plan this number will shortly be augumented until there will be ninety such bandit chasers in service.

The entire shell of the body is lined with ⅛-inch special steel and the spacer between the armor plating and the outside of the car is packed with loose cotton and coarse hair to retard the velocity of bullets. Armor plate also covers the cowl and runs up as high as the lower portion of the windshield. The upper portion is in two sections of bullet proof glass and wind-wings have been provided on either side, these also of bullet proof glass. The Ford engines are specially equipped to afford increased speed.

NEW PLANT FOR OAKLAND PARTS

Demand for 1924 Models So Heavy Present Factory Taxed to Limit

So great has been the demand for the new 1924 Oakland cars that factory heads are seriously considering taking over the motor plant of the Saginaw Products company at Saginaw, Michigan, for the production of parts of motors in case the motor plant at Pontiac cannot supply all that are needed for the present heavy production schedule, says Thos. E. Ricketts, 420 East Colorado street, local dealer.

The proposed new plant has been closed for some time. If it is taken over, writes C. J. Nephler, general sales manager, it will be prepared for an auxiliary plant to supply Oakland motor parts, and probably motors, in case of emergencies.

It is not the intention of the Oakland Motor Car company to manufacture cars in the Saginaw plant, either now or in the future, Mr. Ricketts adds.

We 23,000 Men

Present you the utmost in fine cars

THERE are 23,000 of us building Studebaker cars. Most of us are partners in the business. Thousands of us are stockholders. All of us, after a certain time, get dividends on wages.

All of us, after two years, get vacations with pay. All of us, after one year, get dividends on wages. After five years, that annual dividend adds 10% to our earnings.

The company spends vast sums on co-operative work with us. When we retire, we get pensions.

So Studebaker cars represent the best that we, in combination, know how to offer you.

Some of us belong to management. If we do better than expected, we get 10% of the excess.

So every man among us does his best to make Studebaker cars supreme.

Our fine backing

Behind us is an honored name. For 72 years Studebaker has been the leader in quality and class.

We have $90,000,000 of assets. We have $50,000,000 in model plants. We have 12,500 up-to-date machines. So Studebaker cars are built by modern and efficient methods.

We have an engineering department which costs $500,000 yearly. That to maintain and develop Studebaker standards.

We subject Studebaker cars to 30,000 inspections. That requires 1,200 men. All told over 70,000 machine and hand operations are performed in manufacture of a Studebaker car. In so many operations, though each one is small, there is a great opportunity for economies and savings.

We have a $10,000,000 body plant, to maintain the Studebaker standard of coach work. There sons, fathers and grandfathers are working together, to build such bodies as Studebaker always built.

Those bodies are finished by many operations, including 15 coats of paint and varnish.

The open bodies are upholstered in real leather. The closed bodies in Chase Mohair. That is made from the silky fleece of Angora goats.

We pay for those extras — and others—out of savings. Building our own bodies saves you on some types up to $300 per car.

We never stint

The rule here is to give the utmost in every part and detail.

We have 35 formulas for steel. Each has been demonstrated best for its purpose. On some of these steels we pay 15% premium to get the formulas exact.

All Studebaker models are equipped with Timken bearings. There are few cars in America, regardless of price, which equal ours on this point. In our Light-Six, for instance, we put more Timken bearings than are used in any competitive car, within $1,500 of its price.

We give unusual equipment. On some Big-Six models, for instance, we include two nickel-plated bumpers, one or two extra disc wheels with cord tires, a courtesy light, a motometer, steel trunk, etc.

How we do this

We give you these extra values through quantity production. We build 150,000 cars per year — more than any other fine-car builder. Our large expenses are divided by that enormous output.

We do it by building our own bodies, our own parts. Thus we save outside profits.

We do it because we have up-to-date plants, with all forms of modern equipment.

The results are these: Beauty, quality and luxury such as no maker can surpass.

Prices far below the usual. Our Light-Six, built by ordinary methods, would sell for from $200 to $400 more. Our Big-Six can be compared only with the highest-priced cars in the world.

Here are 13 models, from $1240 to $3085 Each of them offers scores of advantages over any comparable car. They offer such values that the trend toward Studebakers has become overwhelming.

Go analyze the reasons before you buy a quality car.

See how Studebaker gained top place

145,167 people last year paid $201,000,000 for Studebaker cars.

The sales have almost trebled in the past three years. Studebaker growth in fine cars is the marvel of this industry.

Go see the reasons. See the scores of extra values Studebaker offers.

There are 13 models. Prices start at $1240 They go to the highest price a fine car needs to cost.

Don't buy a car for years to come without knowing how Studebaker gained its amazing popularity.

Yes, Loud Speaker Says Papa and Mama

NEW YORK, March 22.—Have you a little loud speaker in your home?

If so, don't be surprised in the future to hear it calling, plaintively, "Papa," or "Mama."

Loud speakers have already done so in the laboratory of Dr. Harvey Fletcher, radio engineer, who has devoted much time to improving tonal qualities in this important part of radiophone equipment. Sounds closely resembling vowels, as uttered by human vocal cords, have been achieved by operations of variometers, vacuum tube oscillator, amplifier, and tuned circuits.

Many of the sounds which seem to emanate from the loud speaker actually are present only as overtones or harmonics, Dr. Fletcher explains, the fundamental sometimes not being present at all. Especially, is this true where exceptionally low tones, such as two octaves below "middle C" on the piano are reproduced.

Financial Troubles Of Farmer Related

Forty-two per cent of the farmers feel that their financial difficulties are due to low prices of farm products, the United States Department of Agriculture says. Seventeen per cent attribute their condition to high taxes; 11 per cent to high costs of farm labor; 10 per cent to high freight rates; 10 per cent to high interest rates; 6 per cent to reckless expenditures during the boom period, and 4 per cent to too much credit.

SPENDS 80 CENTS ON REPAIR BILLS

Chevrolet Proves Economy in Year's Operation with Local Contractor

The reputation of the Chevrolet as a dependable car whose main feature is its economy and its sturdiness wins a strong endorsement from Contractor W. H. Porter, 416 Porter street, Glendale, who has been keeping tabs on his Chevrolet Sport model in the year that has elapsed since he bought it.

A few days ago Mr. Porter rolled his car into the C. L. Smith agency at the corner of Colorado and Orange streets and had some repairs done on it that cost him the magnificent sum of eighty cents, which he claimed was all he had expended on repairs since he had bought the car.

"Mr. Porter uses his Chevrolet to drive around his various contracts," said C. L. Smith, in discussing the incident, "and he keeps the car in constant use. The record that he has established for repair bills in one year, while remarkable from any standard, is not a solitary instance, by any means. We have other clients here in Glendale who can come very close to matching the record of Mr. Porter, and they cannot praise the Chevrolet warmly enough for its freedom from mechanical worries and for its economical operation costs. High gasoline mileage, low maintenance costs and reliable performance are the outstanding features of the Chevrolet not only in a few instances but in every case that I know of."

Prosperous Condition Reflected by Payroll

Employment in the Ford Motor company organization is now at the highest point in the company's history and reflects in a general way the prosperous condition existing in the country as well as in the automobile industry.

There are approximately 157,000 workers employed in Ford industries in the United States, according to recent figures. Of these, more than 24,000 work in branch assembly plants.

The largest number employed in any single manufacturing unit, is, of course, at the Highland Park plant at Detroit, where 68,500 men are at work.

The biggest increase in the number employed at any one place during the last year was made at the River Rouge plant of the company. A year ago, 28,000 men were employed there, while today there are nearly 42,000 workers on the pay-roll.

Oil King's Supply Is Found to Be Fusel

CENTREVILLE, Mich., March 22.—The menace of the Teapot Dome oil scandal is beginning to draw innocent bystanders into its toils, as well as the big financiers and statesmen.

It so affected George Pratt, Centerville citizen, that he was under the impression he owned Teapot Dome, and he dashed up and down the street, with a teapot in his hands, informing all pedestrians that he met that he was about to "get the Sinclair company" and clear up the national scandal.

All went well with the self-appointed reformer until he decided that a neighbor's house harbored the headquarters of the Sinclair company. Police called to the scene searched Pratt's house, where, they said, a number of bottles were found, but the only trace of oil was of the variety known as fusel.

George rested in the local jail.

STUDEBAKER LINE SHOWS NEW ONES

Three Models Are Displayed By Packer Auto Co. In Glendale Agency

Three new models in the Studebaker line are being shown by the local dealer, Packer Auto Co., 245 South Brand boulevard, and are attracting admiring comment from motorists who have seen them.

The most striking of the new models is the Light Six sedan, upholstered in Spanish leather, and representing one of the most impressive examples of the coach makers' art as well as embodying the Studebaker good points.

Two sport models, one in the Light Six class and the other in the Special Six line, are fully equipped with all extras and bear a distinctive air that renders them noticeable in any company.

"The Light Six sedan," says R. L. Conover, sales manager, "is the ideal car for the family for all weathers. It is light, easily handled in traffic or on the open road, it affords comfort in summer or winter, and the price, $1,680 here, places it within the reach of the person of modest means. But its main features are its elegance of design and finish. It is a car that men and women of refinement can be its worth are built into it from proud to drive, for its beauty and bumper to bumper."

Studebaker sales, Mr. Conover says, are showing an increased demand for cars of all models, and many orders are being placed now in preparation for summer.

PACKARD AGENCY WILL MOVE SOON

New Home on South Brand to Be Ready Shortly, Is Daniel's Report

Work on the new home of the Dixie Packard Co., that is now being erected at 1129-1131 South Brand boulevard, at the corner of Palmer avenue, is progressing so rapidly that the firm, which distributes the Packard and Gray cars in this territory, expects to be housed in its new quarters within a very short time.

The building occupies a space of 50x100 feet, leaving room at the rear of the lot for the erection of wash racks and greasing racks, which will be under shelter. The machinery that is to form part of the equipment of the new service department will be installed early next week, and W. H. Daniel, the manager of the firm, will begin planning for his formal opening just as soon as he can get his place in proper order to receive his guests.

The showrooms will be of a size that will permit an adequate and fitting display of the cars, with lighting effects that will attract the interest and attention of everyone who passes the establishment. Mr. Daniel has had his eye on the South Brand location almost since he came to Glendale, and the building of the new Packard home is a matter in which he takes a keen pride.

"The Studebaker traveled as though it were on the wings of the west wind, as the log of the trip will reveal. It was a perfect performance and pleased both Mrs. Twining and the mayor, who took turns at the wheel."

Since then, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Myers have accompanied the Twinings over the same good roads and made even better time than that shown. And the Packer Auto company at Colorado and Brand boulevards are looking for someone to be shown the Studebaker that makes the speed such as told.

"The only time the Hanson and Guthrie parties were able to keep pace with us," said Mr. Twining, "was returning through Orange county. The mayor had to caution them he was not friendly with Judge J. Several women competed in a 100-mile race at the famous Brookland track recently. WATCH GAS FLAME

The color of the flames of combustion indicates the mixture of gasoline and air that is being used. To see this requires an open priming cock on one cylinder while the engine is running, and it can best be seen in the dark, or at any rate, dusk. An orange-colored flame indicates too lean a mixture. A pale blue in slow speed merging into purple, and then almost transparent, shows that the mixture is light.

Keep Close Track of Car's Oil Consumption

Always keep careful track of your oil consumption, as it means better efficiency of your engine. If you find you are using an excessive amount, it indicates that there is an excessive leak or that the engine is sucking it up into the combustion space.

SPEED RULES OF VEHICLE ACT TOLD

Attorney Claims Impression That Law Is Defective Is Erroneous

By DAVID R. FARIES
General Counsel, Automobile Club of Southern California

Reports have recently been given considerable newspaper publicity to the effect that the speed provisions of the new California Vehicle Act are defective, and that motorists cannot be punished for excessive speed. Such reports are entirely erroneous. It is true that certain changes have been made in those sections of the California Vehicle Act having to do with certain speed, but such changes have by no means rendered the sections invalid.

The California Vehicle Act in Section 113 imposes the following requirements and restrictions as to speed:

"(a) Any person driving a vehicle on the public highways of this state shall drive the same at a careful and prudent speed not greater than is reasonable and proper, having due regard to the traffic, surface and width of the highway, and no person shall drive any vehicle upon a public highway at such a speed as to endanger the life, limb or property of any person."

Subject to the above rule certain limits are set down in the Act, within which it is lawful to operate a motor vehicle. These are set forth in a subsequent subdivision of Section 113, which reads as follows:

Here's The Law

"Subject to the provisions of subdivision (a) of this section and except in those instances where a lower speed is specified in this act, it shall be lawful, for the driver of a vehicle to drive at a speed not exceeding the following:

"1. Fifteen miles an hour in traversing a grade crossing of any steam, electric or street railway when the driver's view is obstructed. A driver's view shall be deemed to be obstructed when at any time during the last one hundred feet of his approach to such crossing he does not have a clear and uninterrupted view of such railway crossing and of any traffic on such railway for a distance of four hundred feet in both directions from such crossing;

"2. Fifteen miles an hour in traversing an intersection of highways when the driver's view is obstructed. A driver's view shall be deemed to be obstructed when at any time during the last one hundred feet of his approach to such intersection he does not have a clear and uninterrupted view of such intersection and of the traffic upon all of the highways entering such intersection for a distance of two hundred feet from such intersection;

"3. Fifteen miles an hour in traversing or going around curves or corners of a highway when the driver's view is obstructed within a distance of two hundred feet along such highway in the direction in which he is proceeding;

"4. Fifteen miles an hour when passing a school while persons are entering or leaving the grounds of such school;

"5. Fifteen miles an hour in a business district, as defined herein;

"6. Twenty miles an hour in a residence district, as defined herein;

"7. Thirty-five miles an hour under all other conditions."

Two Vital Points

There are two vital points to be observed in the foregoing provisions. First. Provided a motorist is driving at a careful and prudent speed not greater than is reasonable and proper under all the circumstances and at such a speed as will not endanger the life, limb or property of any person, it is then (second) lawful to drive at fifteen, twenty or thirty-five miles per hour as set forth in the above table. Conversely, if a speed of fifteen, twenty or thirty-five miles per hour will endanger life, limb or property or is not a careful and prudent speed under the particular circumstances, then it is unlawful to travel at such speed.

The above statements may be illustrated as follows:

Assume that a motorist is driving across an intersection crowded with pedestrains. Prudence may dictate that 10 miles per hour is a reasonable speed at the particular moment. If so, ten miles per hour is the maximum lawful speed at that time and place. On the other hand, if there are no pedestrains or other users of the highway, who will be endangered, and it is reasonable under the circumstances, then it is lawful to travel at a speed which does not exceed 15 miles per hour at the intersection.

An additional provision contained in Section 113 reads:

"(c) In all charges of violation of this section (that is, Section 113, the section governing speed), speeds in excess of those set forth in subdivision (b) of this section shall be taken as prima facie but not as conclusive evidence of a violation of this section."

Thus a speed in excess of 15 miles per hour in a business district is always prima facie evidence that the law has been violated; speed in excess of 20 miles per hour in a residence district is likewise prima facie evidence of a violation of the law, and, equally so, is speed in excess of 35 miles per hour in open country territory.

Question of Fact

A traffic officer who proves in court that a motorist was traveling 38 miles per hour in open country territory has established a prima facie case of speeding, and if nothing more is offered the motorist stands convicted. The motorist may, however, offer evidence that he was traveling on a clear, straight, wide, paved highway in broad daylight without other traffic thereon. If the evidence offered by the motorist establishes to the satisfaction of the court or jury that his speed of 38 miles per hour was reasonable and proper under all circumstances and that he was not, in fact, traveling at such a speed as to endanger the life, limb or property of any person at the particular time and place, then the court or jury may in its discretion find the motorist not guilty of an unlawful speed.

Upon conviction of speeding, a motorist is punishable for a first offense within one year by fine not to exceed $50, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not to exceed five days. Upon a second conviction within one year, the motorist is subject to fine of not to exceed $100, or imprisonment in the county jail for not to exceed ten days or both such fine and imprisonment. A third conviction of speeding within one year may subject the motorist to a $500 fine or imprisonment not to exceed six months, or both such fine and imprisonment.

May Suspend License

Conviction of speeding may also in the discretion of the court entail further punishment by suspension of operator's or chauffeur's license. The court may suspend such license for a period not to exceed thirty days upon a first conviction, for a period not to exceed sixty days upon a second conviction, and for a period not to exceed twelve months for a third or subsequent conviction.

The principal difference between the present speed law and the old one is that under the old law the offense was exceeding an arbitrary limit, whether or not life, limb or property was endangered, whereas under the new law the offense is the endangering of life, limb or property whether the speed is greater or less than the limits mentioned in the Act.

The new law is ample and complete; there are no "loop holes" or "jokers" in it. The penalties are also ample and complete. Take no chances with them!

Use Screwdriver and Wrench on Auto Parts

A wrench and screw-driver should be applied occasionally to every part of the car to make sure everything is right. A car is subject to considerable vibration and there is danger of the nuts and bolts coming loose at the base. If this is not attended to almost anything may happen, from oil leakage to a wrecked engine.

FEES BRING $9,756,789 TO STATE

Los Angeles Receives $1,838,230 Based on Number of Cars Licensed

The California Division of Motor Vehicles collected a total of $9,756,978.44 during 1923 in motor vehicle fees, to be apportioned to the State Highway Commission and highway departments of the various counties for the repair and maintenance of roads. This is shown in the annual statement of apportionment released today by Will H. Marsh, chief of the division.

Of this sum the counties will receive $4,878,394.72 or one-half. The amount each county receives to spend on its roads is based on the number of automobiles registered during the current year, Marsh explained. All motor vehicle fees go to road maintenance after deductions for administrative expenses of the division are made, he said. The division operated on less than three per cent of all collections during the year, it was stated.

L. A. Gets $1,838,230.48

More than one-third of the apportionment to the counties will go to Los Angeles county the share of that county being $1,838,230.48. San Francisco is second with $426,188.48. Alameda third with $330,913.31. Fresno fourth with $210,222.16 and San Diego fifth with $155,403.77.

A gain of 27 per cent in motor vehicle registrations throughout the state, over 1922, was reported, the total of passenger cars, trucks and motorcycles being 1,114,977.

Drivers In London Learn Street Names

Of the many things a taxicab driver in London must know before he is permitted to drive a car are the names of 33 thousand streets, and the nearest routes to them, all the squares, gardens, parks and public buildings, his way out of London to a distance of 30 miles, and various driving and conduct rules.

Explains Adjustment of Timing Mechanism

On some cars, the timing mechanism must be removed or disturbed when certain classes of work are to be done. This, of course, necessitates a re-timing of the ignition. In some cases, the firing point of the stroke is marked on the fly-wheel, or the gears themselves are marked. In other cases, the piston of number one cylinder must be brought to the top dead center of the compression stroke. A common method of finding this position is by means of a bent wire inserted through the spark plug hole when both the intake and exhaust valves are closed. Another method is to remove the spark plug, place the thumb over the hole, and turn over the engine. The intake stroke can be determined by the suction which is exerted on the thumb by the descending piston. On the compression stroke, the ascending piston exerts a pressure on the thumb. When this pressure ceases, the piston has reached the end of its travel, and the ignition timing may then be done.

Through compression and exhaust both take place on the up stroke of the piston, the two strokes are easily distinguished from each other. On the compression stroke, both valves are closed, and as the mixture has no outlet, it is compressed into a compact mass, and exerts a pressure on the thumb. On the exhaust stroke, however, the exhaust valve offers an outlet for the mixture, and it passes through the exhaust pipe. When priming cups are used on the engine, a simple method of locating the piston may be used. The aperture in the cup is slightly opened by turning the cock, and the cup is then filled with ordinary lubricating oil. On the intake stroke, the descending piston draws a part of the oil into the cylinder. If the entire amount of oil is drawn in, the supply must be replenished. On the compression stroke, the compression of the mixture causes bubbles to be formed on the oil. When the bubbling ceases, the piston has reached the top dead center, or firing point of its stroke.—Automobile Digest.

Foreign Nations Use Large Number of Cars

The use of motor vehicles is increasing as rapidly in other countries as in the United States. The development has progressed most rapidly in the English-speaking countries. Great Britain has 655,318, Canada 642,571 and Australia 130,540. France stands next to the British Empire, with 460,000.

ELECTRICAL LOGIC

Excessive generator output will cause cutouts to burn out. The generator brushes should be so adjusted that the battery will not be charged at a greater rate than fifteen ampers.

STEAM CARS ONE-SIXTH OF AUTOS

Motor Transports Could Population of America in Two Trips

Motor vehicles in use throughout the United States outnumber steam railroad passenger and freight coaches and locomotives by a ratio of six to one, according to figures just compiled by the Automobile Club of Southern California. This estimate is based on a census of railroad rolling stock for all steam roads in the United States at the close of 1923.

The total number of motor vehicles in use in the country at the present time is approximately 15,000,000. The railroad census shows that there are 2,400,000 freight cars, 57,000 passenger coaches and 68,000 locomotives in use at the beginning of 1924, or a total of 2,525,000 units in steam transportation.

Uses Are Contrasted

There is quite a difference in the two conditions of transportation as the greater majority of the steam rolling stock consists of freight cars, while by far the greater number of motor vehicles are used for passenger service. According to the steam railway reports there is one passenger car to every forty-two freight cars, while the motor vehicle registration indicates about one freight truck for every nineteen passenger cars.

The figures are taken to manifest the constantly increasing importance of motor vehicles in transportation, which is admittedly a fundamental of general human development.

The automobile has been in use a little more than one-third of the time that have steam railways, yet in the United States today there are sufficient motor vehicles to transport one-half of the population at one load, allowing four persons to a car.

Railroad Capacity

Using an average of sixty persons to the steam passenger coach, the total seating capacity would be 3,420,000, or only approximately one twenty-ninth of the population of the country.

The automobiles in southern California alone, approximating 600,000 would be able to transport at one time 2,400,000, or more than two-thirds of the carrying capacity of every steam passenger coach in the United States.

The entire development of the automobile has been accomplished in less than a generation. There is room for speculation in what the automobile club statistician may be figuring on a generation hence.

Habit of Passing Vehicles on Right Invites Accident

Passing vehicles on the right side is becoming a frequent practice of careless motorists, according to reports received by the Automobile Club of Southern California. This is illegal and not only invites accident but is liable to bring arrest and trying of the offender.

Just why this breach of the state law should increase at this time is unexplained, but the practice is becoming so prevalent that a warning is sounded to all motor vehicle operators not to attempt right side passing of vehicles.

Injuries Prevented by New Safety Device

A Danish inventor has perfected a device that will prevent serious damage to the car or injury to the passengers when the front axle or front wheel is broken while driving. The device consists of a pair of "trailing shoes," made of spring steel of various widths for the different sizes of cars. They are attached to the front axle in such a way that if the axle or wheel breaks the car will only drop until the shoe, instead of the axle, rests on the ground. Tests have been made during which a wheel was run off the axle without throwing the car out of its course.

HARDENING SMALL PARTS

Small parts can be hardened in pieces of pipe when they are packed in hardening compound. If more than one piece is to be hardened they should not touch each other or the pipe. When packed the ends of the pipe should be sealed with fire clay. Hardening is accomplished by heating to a bright red for several hours and plunging in water or oil depending upon the degree of hardness required.

PROTECT BATTERY

Protect the battery against water, dust, oil and stones thrown up from the road.

RECOVER 84 PERCENT OF THEFTS

Pacific Coast Cities Show Better Record Than Rest of Country

There were 39,612 automobiles stolen last year, according to figures just made public by the National Automobile Dealers' association, in 28 key cities of the United States. Of this number 7,228 were unrecovered on January 1st.

The percentage of unrecovered stolen cars in the 28 index cities, for 1923 was 18 per cent, the lowest recorded since the records have been kept.

Many Agencies Help

Police efforts, certificate of title laws, registration provisions all have had an effect on the recoveries of cars in 1923, it is believed. In spite of the lowest number of unrecovered cars, 1923 also registered the highest total number of cars stolen in six years in those 28 cities.

The Pacific coast region as represented by six key cities made a record of recoveries better than that of the country at large, its percentage of unrecovered cars being only 16.

Recoveries Shown

In these cities there were 8,715 cars stolen, of which 7,314 were recovered. The number of thefts and percentages of recoveries were:

	Cars Stolen	Per Cent Recovered
Los Angeles	4,218	66
San Francisco	2,154	90
Portland	556	98
Seattle	1,342	67
Salt Lake City	430	98
Oakland	1,015	96

Thefts in the 28 index cities in six years totaled 203,499, of which 49,677 or 25 per cent were unrecovered. The figures quoted are compiled from reports each year to the N. A. D. A. from the official record of the police departments of the bay cities.

PREVENTS RUSTY RIMS

While the usual mediums for preventing rusting of the rims are shellac and graphite, it is possible to use beeswax in this connection with very satisfactory results. The rims should be heated slightly with a blow torch and the beeswax should be rubbed on while they are still warm.

Lacquer Finish for Motorcars in Week's Time

The latest lacquer finish in any color for high class motor cars is advertised by the Motor Sales Company, 406 East Colorado street, who will take a car on Monday and return it the next Saturday night looking like a new machine, it is said.

The lacquer paint job is said to be one of the most durable and best looking, as well as quick and comparatively inexpensive. It is an excellent way to renew the finish on used cars. The Motor Sales company representative will be glad to demonstrate this work.

Attention is also called to the good mechanical facilities maintained in the Motor Sales company garage for service on Franklin cars, for which this firm is Glendale agents. With an ever-increasing number of Franklins in and about Glendale, this service station will make itself a valuable asset to the automotive industry here.

Repair work on other cars also is done by the experienced mechanics employed.

Four Departments in Van & Jack's Service Station

Van & Jack's super-service station, said to be the most modern and complete institution of its kind in Glendale, might readily be compared to a department store for the motorist's service needs. In fact, there are four separate departments at 240 South Brand boulevard, south of the Masonic temple, awaiting your call for service. They are:

First—Oils, gasoline and accessories under the personal management of Van & Jack, who have several gasoline pumps ready to fill up dry tanks.

Second—A used car department owned by Miller & Rafaelson, who make a specialty of reconditioning good used cars for those who do not care to invest in a new machine.

Third — The Thierault Vulcanizing works, which specializes in tires and repairing. It is a long established concern in Glendale, with a reputation for first class work.

And, Fourth—A department devoted to washing, polishing and greasing motor cars in the most approved method.

General News and Gossip from Staff Writers at Home and Abroad

By ROLAND KREBS

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The doormat of the White House is a spot where temporary chest and head deflation takes place like it does nowhere else in the United States.

The change that occurs in financial magicians, captains of industry, bridge builders, political soothsayers and other "big men" once they step on this doormat is miraculous; for seeing the president is sort of important, if not exactly epochal.

Here is just how it happens. Mr. John J. Hokum, before whom lesser bankers crawl and cringe in the financial world, has an appointment with the president for 10 a. m. He feels puffy and rather important. Who wouldn't be, with the president seeking his views on this or that?

Mr. Hokum emerges from his suite in the New Willard Hotel, head held high, a profound expression overspreading his face, a firm stride carrying him toward the door. With an imperial gesture he sweeps up a taxicab and is whisked to the White House. Many other motor cars are parked under the trees of the Executive Mansion drive, for other persons, too, wish to see the chief magistrate.

Good Mr. Hokum frowns at this. Why do all these nobodies come around today? Don't they know he has an appointment with the president?

Mr. Hokum steps out of his cab and over his shoulder says to the driver: "Wait here, please," but the driver, who hauls many, many John J. Hokums up there, is unimpressed.

Conscious that many eyes are on him, the great financier stamps up the walk with an important tread. His arms swing, his head is straining at the hatband, his chest expansion is nothing less than fourteen inches.

He is going to see the president.

At the door of the executive office he steps on the doormat. Suddenly he is terrified. One doesn't see presidents every day. He topples from his lofty perch. His attitude now is that that he has when he calls on a dentist.

Off comes the hat. The manner is more deferential. Mr. Hokum enters timidly, smiles feebly at the reception room police and, with what comes near to being a bow, says: "I have an appointment with Mr. Coolidge."

He feels he is nothing—minus.

There is little justification for the timidity that most visitors to the White House exhibit. There certainly is no organized effort to make them little or humble. The reception they get could be no more cordial. There is no "What do YOU want?" from the White House police in the reception room. Instead, it's a friendly "Good morning," with a lifted eye-brow that politely asks the nature of their business.

Even the president, exalted though his position may be, puts no terror into the hearts of his visitors. He is a quiet, unostentatious little man, who seems to realize what a big job he has and appreciates the counsel of anyone competent to extend it.

So the Mr. Hokums who expect to find the White House sheltering a terrible ogre, guarded by fierce basilisks, are disallusioned quickly. Mr. Coolidge has a knack of making his visitors feel a whole lot more important than he himself is.

The result is that when Mr. Hokum steps on the doormat on his way out he is conscious that he was a big man before the visit, but now is even bigger.

His chest is back to its abnormal expansion as he strides importantly back to the unimpressed taxicab driver.

WHO'S WHO

WILLIAM M. BUTLER

The present year looms up as a busy one for William M. Butler. For the man selected to direct the campaign of President Coolidge for nomination at the Republican convention has also been put in the Massachusetts senatorial fight to strengthen the Republican hold in that state. His intention to run for the senatorial seat now held by David I. Walsh, Democrat, has just been announced. Walsh will seek re-election.

Until Coolidge asked Butler to lead his campaign for nomination little was known generally about Butler.

He is one of the wealthiest mill men in New England. He is sixty-two and has been twice married and has five children..

Butler's parents were not rich. When he finished his common school education in New Bedford, Mass., he entered a mill office there as bookkeeper. One member of the firm, Rufus A. Soule, took a liking to "Young Billy." Soule had political ambitions and got Butler to manage his campaign for election to the legislature. Butler is given credit for Soule's success in politics, the latter eventually becoming president of the state senate. Butler studied law, meanwhile, and began to practice it in New Bedford only to decide that he might starve to death. So he turned to politics.

At twenty-eight he was elected to the state legislature. He had served three years as city councilor in New Bedford before that.

When Butler left the senate Senator Murray W. Crane persuaded him to open law offices in Boston. There he became interested in street railways and eventually became president of the Boston and Worcester Street Railway company. He has served as legislative counsel for the Boston Gas Light company, the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, and the American Woolen company. In New Bedford he is president of the Butler mills, the New Bedford Cotton Mills, the New Bedford Storage Warehouse company, and the Quisset Mills—the four most important corporations in that thriving city.

He has also been the Massachusetts member of the Republican National Committee.

Dinner Stories

The toll-gate keeper in a certain section of Alabama is an aged darkey. When, recently, a farmer of that district sought to pay toll by the offer of a dime, the coin was returned to him by the keeper with this statement:

"'Scuse me, boss, but I can't take dis dime. It's bent an' de county's got a strict rule agin our taking mutilated coins."

"Indeed?" said the farmer. "Well, let me tell you that you gave me that very bent dime yourself in change yesterday!"

"May be, may be," murmured the old darky. "Dere ain't no rule agin my handin' out mutilated money. It's only agin my takin' it."

An old story down—or up—where the Wabash flows, is the one about the traveler who noticed that a farmer was having trouble with his horse, a horse which would start, go slowly for a short distance, and then stop again. Thereupon the farmer would have great difficulty in getting it started. The traveler approached and asked solicitously:

"s your horse sick?"

"Not as I knows of."

"Is your horse sick?"

"No. But he is danged 'fraid I'll say 'whoa' and he won't hear me, that he stops every once in a while to listen."

"You can depend on a youngster to stump you with some unexpected question," said Robert Edeson, the popular actor. "Take this case for instance: The superintendent of a Sunday school repeated to the children the text, 'Arise, and take the young child and its mother, and flee into Egypt.'"

Then the superintendent showed a large picture illustrating this text in bright colors.

"Isn't this picture fine?" he asked. "Here is the mother. Here is the child. There's Egypt in the distance. Isn't it fine?"

CUPID PLANS MATCH FOR BOBBY

Golf Champion to Marry Childhood Friend

Bobby Jones (insert) and his bride-to-be, Miss Mary Malone

Rumors that had been flying around Atlanta, Ga., for some time were proved to be well founded when the engagement of Bobby Jones, national open golf champion, and Miss Mary Malone was formally announced. Their romance began in school days. Bobby has just been graduated from Harvard.

On the Spur of the Moment

A friend of ours who travels a great deal tells us that the bellboy—there's only one—of the Astorbilt Hotel has invented an ingenuous system of calling sleepy guests. A man left instructions that he wished to be called early. Next morning he was distrubed by a loud tatoo upon the door. "Well?" he demanded, rather irritably. "I've a message for you, sir." Yawning, the guest jumped out of bed and unlocked the door. The bellboy handed him an envelope and then went quickly away. The guest opened the envelope and took out a slip of paper bearing the words: "It's time to get up."

OUR OWN DAILY SHORT STORY
When He Was Parted from Them

A minister in a certain town in Alamaba took permanent leave of his congregation in the following pathetic manner:

"Brethren and Sisters—I come to say good-by. I don't think God loves this church, because none of you ever die. I don't think you love each other, because I never marry any of you. I don't think you love me, because you never paid my salary. Your donations are moldy fruit and wormy apples, and by their fruits you shall know them. Brethren, I am going away to a better place. I have been called to be chaplain of a penitentiary. When I go you cannot come, but I go to prepare a place for you, and may the Lord have mercy on your souls! Good-by."

Historic in the judicial annals of North Carolina is a case that came up in one of its courts some years ago. It appears that a debtor named Williams, when solicited to close an old open account by note, agreed to do so, provided he should be allowed to draft the instrument. This condition was agreed to, whereupon he presented the creditor with the following:

"I, Richard Williams, agree to pay Henry Higgans $300 whenever convenient, but it is understood that said Williams is not to be pushed. Witness my hand and seal this — day of —.

"Richard Williams."

The children had to make applications for the position in writing.

One youngster wrote:

"Dear Miss Smith: I saw you want a milliner. I hate to trim hats. Can't you get somebody else? Please let me know at once. Edith Brown."

"Auntie," he said, finally, "does God know everything?"

"Yes, dear."

"Every little thing?"

"Yes, dear, every little thing."

"Well, then," he said in a tone of conviction, "God knows I am hungry."

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— BY HOWARD R. GARIS —

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE BITTER BOTTLE

Uncle Wiggily hopped across the fences and through the woods. He had been out looking for adventures, but finding none, he was on his way back to his hollow stump bungalow.

The rabbit gentleman was twinkling his pnk nose, and feeling rather sad at having had no adventure when, all of a sudden, he saw an automobile standing in front of it. Not a great big auto, you understand, but a small one, just the size for a rabbit.

"Hello!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily out loud, as he stopped hopping and stood up straight. "That's Dr. Possum's auto. I wonder if he has called to see me?"

Hurrying along to his bungalow, Uncle Wiggily went in and met Dr. Possum just coming out.

"Oh, did you come to call on me, doctor?" asked the bunny gentleman. "I'm sorry you have been waiting. But here I am, at last!"

"No, I didn't come to see you," Dr. Possum answered. "Nurse Jane has suddenly been taken ill. Mrs. Twistytail, the lady pig, happened to be calling and she telephoned for me."

"Nurse Jane ill? I'm sorry to hear that!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "She was all right when I left this morning to go adventuring. Is it a bad illness?"

"Oh, no, nothing to worry about," answered Dr. Possum. I fancy Nurse Jane ate too much cheese pudding. I was just going back to my office to get her a bottle of bitter medcine. If you wli come along with me you can bring it back."

"I'll do that," said the rabbit gentleman. "But first I'll just look in and see how Nurse Jane feels."

The muskrat lady was in bed with her lace cap on, and sitting beside her was fat, jolly, good-natured Mrs. Twistytail, the lady pig.

"Hello, Uncle Wiggily!" greeted Nurse Jane. "I'm sorry I can't get your dinner this evening."

"That's all right, Janie, my dear! I'll get something out of the pantry. I'm sorry you aren't felling well. I'm going now to get you a bottle of—nice, sweet medicine," said the bunny uncle.

Uncle Wiggily didn't tell what Dr. Possum had said about bitter medicine.

"Nurse Jane feels badly enough without having to think of bitter medicine," said the bunny to himself. "I'll say it's nice, sweet medicine, though, of course, she'll find out different after she takes it."

"All right, Wiggy, go get me the nice medicine," whispered Nurse Jane.

"And when it's time to eat I'll come over and cook you a meal," offered Mrs. Twistytail.

"Thank you," spoke the bunny. Then he rode in Dr. Possum's automobile to the drug store, and soon was on his way back to the hollow stump bungalow again with the bottle in his paws.

"It is very bitter medicine," Dr. Possum had said, "but it will cure Nurse Jane."

"I hope so," said Uncle Wiggily.

The rabbit gentleman was hopping along over the fields and through the woods, and he was thinking how kind Nure Jane had always been to him, and he was feeling sorry for her at having to take the stuff from the bitter bottle when, all of a sudden, there was a noise in the bushes, and out popped—the Skillery Scallery Alligator, with the double jointed tail.

"Oh, ho!" cried the 'Gator, opening his big mouth, "I see you again, Uncle Wiggily."

"Yes," sadly answered the bunny, "you see me again!"

"And this time you haven't any umbrella for the wind to blow under and lift you over my head," went on the 'Gator.

"No, I haven't any umbrella!" sadly said the bunny.

"But you have something in your paw—what is it?" asked the bad chap, looking at what the rabbit carried.

"This is a bitter bottle for Nurse Jane," replied Mr. Longears.

"A bitter bottle! Ha! Ha! That's pretty good!" laughed the 'Gator. "You are trying to fool me! That's a bottle of sweet maple sugar syrup I'm sure, and you don't want me to have any. But I'll take some and then I'll nibble your ears!"

With that the 'Gator most impolitely, grabbed the bottle from Uncle Wiggily, and, lifting out the cork, took a big swallow. Then such a funny look as come over the 'Gator's face!

"Oh, gurr! Oh, gow! Kuff! Kuff! Scoo!" howled the bad chap, and, making a face that looked like the wrinkles in an asphalt pavement on a hot day, he tossed the bottle into the air and ran away.

Uncle Wiggily caught the bottle before it could fall and break, and saved most of the medicine. The bunny put the cork back in and went on his way laughing, and saying:

"The bitter bottle fooled the

The Gator took a big swallow.

'Gator all right!" And when Nurse Jane took the medicine she didn't make any funny faces at all.

"I guess the 'Gator took all the bitterness out of the bottle, leaving only the sweet medicine," she said. And soon, the muskrat lady was better and Uncle Wiggily was very happy.

And if the snowball doesn't wake up in the night and cry to have an icicle in bed with it, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's green tie.

MARCH'S CHANGEABLE WEATHER

One may expect many changes in weather in March, and should be prepared for coughs and colds. The slight cold, if neglected, may develop into a serious illness. With the first sign of a cough or cold take FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND, the old reliable family cough remedy, excellent for coughs, colds, hoarseness. John R. Elizabeth came to school one day in a state of suppressed excitement. Going straight to the teacher's desk, she exclaimed exultantly:

"I've got a new little sister."

"How very nice," replied the teacher.

"Yes," said Elizabeth, "but this is only a half-sister."

"Why, that doesn't make any difference, does it?"

"No, but I never can understand where the other half is."

CODE EXPERT IS NOTED BOTANIST

Cryptologist During War Nipped Many Plots by Canny Art

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Employment of W. F. Friedman, war department code and cipher expert, to decode the McLean-Burns-Doheny code telegrams, recalls sensational work done by Friedman for the government during the world war. It recalls, also, the story of how Friedman, a botanical professor at the University of Wisconsin, became the nation's greatest cipher expert through the world-wide controversy of Bacon and Shakespeare.

It was Friedman, then in the employ of Colonel D. F. Fabian, millionaire Chicago hobbyist and the exponent of Bacon's authorship of certain Shakespearean works, who deciphered the famous Zimmerman note from Germany to Mexico, after it had baffled the entire war department. It was Friedman who came to the rescue of the department of justice and decoded the famous Chukkerbury letters disclosing the plot to start a revolution in India against England, which resulted in the unmasking of German Consul Franz Bopp, at San Francisco, and numerous German and Hindoo spies throughout the country.

Bared German Note

The translation of the Zimmerman note was considered by the state department to have been responsible for keeping powerful elements in Mexico from aiding Germany by border raids and other bigger schemes. It was what is known as the "Star Cipher," one of the most difficult in cryptography, and consisted of six mixed alphabets—a device invented centuries ago by the French Admiral Bazeries and apparently lost since then.

The Hindoo conspiracy letters apparently were hazardous, but consisted of a code word thrown in here and there. The code words were selected from a book of poetry which Friedman found in a Chicago bookstore, and he dramatically rushed into Federal court with the translation as the trial was closing.

Colonel Fabian educated, at his own expense at his estate at Geneva, Illinois, eighty-six intelligence officers of the army early in the war, and the instruction was given by Friedman and his wife, a Vassar graduate, who is also an expert cryptologist. This instruction, the only cipher training given the American army during the war, was invaluable to France, and Friedman, physically unable to enlist in the army, was given a special commission and stationed at Pershing's headquarters, where he superintended the deciphering of the German secret messages.

Worked as Botanist

Fabian hired Friedman, a plant culture expert, from the University of Wisconsin, to take charge of his gardens at Geneva before the war. At the time the eccentric millionaire was engaged in the Shakespeare-Bacon controversy. He hired a professor of English from Harvard to go to England and purchase Shakespeare originals.

PART THREE — GLENDALE, LOS ANGELES COUNTY, CALIFORNIA, SATURDAY, MARCH 22, 1924 — PAGES 1 TO 6

SURVEY FORECASTS NEW SPRING BUILDING TOTAL

Glendale Standing Among Southland Cities Shown in Figures Covering First Two Months of Present Year's Progress

The most active spring building season in the history of the country is presaged by the national monthly building survey for February, issued by S. W. Straus & Company.

The Los Angeles district continues to show amazing figures, the report indicates; and Glendale, with $1,029,533 permits for January, 1924, and $805,706 for February, 1924, is seen again to be one of the first three Southern California cities, surpassed only by Los Angeles and Long Beach in the latter month, San Diego's building for February totaling no more than $721,855, and Pasadena's but $654,094, while Alhambra only did $537,400 during the month just passed.

Southland Metropolis Leads

	Feb., 1924	Feb., 1923	Jan., 1924
Los Angeles	$16,483,412	$12,080,310	$13,158,526
San Francisco	3,912,166	3,278,676	3,178,413

From which it is seen that the northern metropolis is no longer even in the running with Los Angeles in building. With amazing rapidity, the figures reveal, the population balance of California is shifting southward.

Of the 329 cities and towns throughout the country reporting for February, the report shows total building permits of $296,087,739 issued. In 314 of these places in which comparisons are available there was a gain of 20 per cent over February, 1923. The eastern group of cities gained 38 per cent, the south gained 9 per cent, the middle west lost 5 per cent and the Pacific coast group gained 14 per cent.

Presages Record Season

"The February exhibit herewith presented," the survey states, "presages the most active spring building season in the history of the country, barring unexpected eventualities within the next few weeks.

"It is indicated from the reports that the preponderance of building activities this spring and summer will be confined to the large cities. The 25 centers which led in building permits for the month

Show Tickets and Sales Taxes Jump For Seven Months

Manufacturers' sales taxes and those paid on amusements during the seven-month period ended March 1 last in Southern California were $27,505,606, an increase of $3,848,501 over the same period of 1923, according to a report to the research bureau of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce from Rex B. Goodcell, collector of internal revenue.

Documentary stamps sold totaled $156,866, telegraph and telephone message taxes were 43 per cent higher than last year's period, and income tax collections were $18,945,280, a gain of 15 per cent.

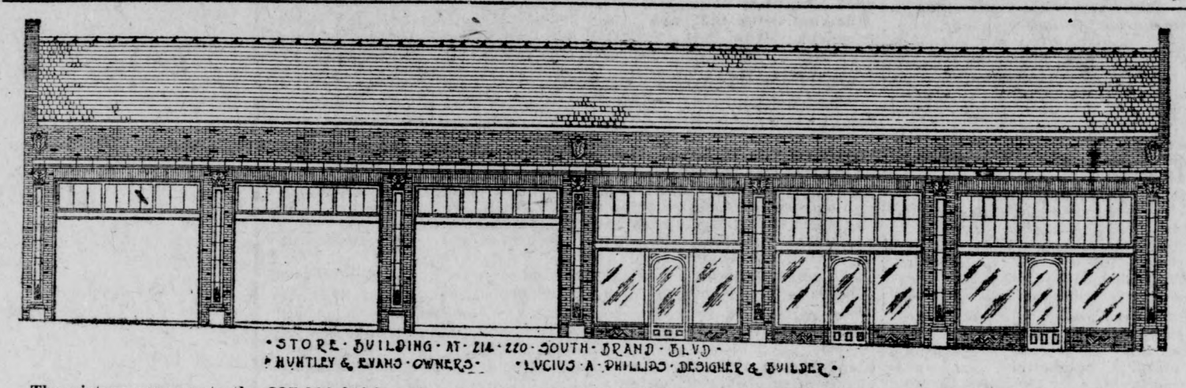
Start Work On Grand Central Market Building



The picture represents the $25,000 brick and terra cotta one-story building being erected at 214 South Brand boulevard by Lucius A. Phillips of Los Angeles for Mrs. John G. Huntley and W. E. Evans of Glendale. The foundations are now going in, and when completed the structure will be one of the finest of its kind in the city, adding another attractive edifice to the skyline of the business section. Engineering Henry Guasti, a progressive Los Angeles merchant, has taken a 50 by 125-foot space for a Grand Central market, on a seven-year lease, and will spend $25,000 in fixtures, making it as fine a produce center as any in the metropolitan area. Three other stores and an automobile service room in the rear will also be leased, Mr. Evans states. The building will be completed in sixty days.

TAXES SHOW INCREASED BUSINESS

Internal Revenue Collector's Report for February Reflects Strides

Internal revenue receipts for February reflected increased business activity in Southern California and a constantly rising commercial barometer, according to a special report for the month which was sent to Washington by Collector of Internal Revenue Rex B. Goodcell.

Sales of documentary stamps which are used on real estate transfers and other business transactions were $156,866 for February, an increase of 57 per cent. Sales for the first seven months of the fiscal year registered an increase over the corresponding period of $352,968, a gain of 52 per cent.

Tax on telephone and telegraph messages represented an increase of 43 per cent in the number of messages transmitted during February.

Collections Gain

February income tax collections were $1,568,261, and for the last seven months $18,945,280, respective gains of 25.7 per cent and 15 per cent.

Manufacturers paid tax on oleo made here that showed an increased production for February of 57 per cent, and for the last seven months of 46 per cent.

Retail jewelers paid $644,363 tax on sales for the seven months ended March 1, a gain of 39 per cent.

Manufacturers of soft drinks paid an increased tax of 57 per cent in February, while the gain for the seven months was 30 per cent.

More Sweets Bought

Manufacturers of carpets, rugs and trunks showed an increase in February tax paid of 86 per cent, while manufacturers' excise tax as a whole for seven months was $928,944, a gain of 81 per cent.

Candy manufacturers paid $166,498 in tax for the seven

University Helps to Conduct Real Estate Classes

Under a plan for statewide co-ordination of real estate classes the University of Southern California and the educational committee of the California Real Estate Association will jointly examine students papers prepared in the courses as conducted under local real estate boards. A diploma showing completion of the course will thereupon be issued jointly by the university and the state association to all who show satisfactory grades.

The California state association is urging its member board to invite all those in occupations allied to real estate to join the real estate classes.

A report to the National Association of Real Estate boards states that some 1200 students are now enrolled in the state, with real estate classes about to be organized in ten additional cities.

The Tennessee Real Estate Association has undertaken to develop in Tennessee schools, colleges, and state institutions a two-year real estate course.

The Chicago Y. M. C. A. College of Commerce has inaugurated a course in land economics, in its real estate course of study, which also includes selling, real estate law transfers and conveyances, and real estate practice. The new course is the first of its kind to be organized in such a school.

GLENDALE IS SECOND IN TOTAL OF SUBDIVISIONS

5042 Lots Included in New Tracts Placed On Market During 1923; Los Angeles Holds First Place, Expert's Report Shows

Glendale subdivided 5042 lots during 1923, according to C. C. Lincoln of the research department, Security Trust & Savings bank, Los Angeles, whose report shows that subdivision activities in this city exceeded any in the Southwest, with the exception of Los Angeles. The report is based on a count made from maps filed with the county recorder.

In all, 86,501 new lots were put on the market during the year, in 714 subdivisions in the metropolitan area, according to Mr. Lincoln, the total acreage comprised being approximately 17,300.

Compares Figures For 1922

In 1922, 56,602 lots in 668 subdivisions, comprising 11,608 acres, were placed on the market within the same area. The amount of territory subdivided in the two years was 28,908 acres. By way of comparison the area of the entire city and county of San Francisco is 26,880 acres, the area of Manhattan Borough, New York, is 14,038 acres, the area of Brooklyn is 26,889 acres.

The area included in this survey is within a radius of ten miles

Spring Is Here! Time to Begin on Your 'Nest'

Spring is here and the sounds of the hammer and the saw are abroad in the land. While the birds are busy building their nests, newlyweds are poring over plans and specifications and "hard-headed" business men are putting up apartments and stores. Everyone thinks of building in the spring.

Now is the time to buy that lot and fool the landlord. Wouldn't it be a good joke to tell him you were moving when your month's rent was up? And when he asked "Where?" you would reply with pride: "Into our own home!"

For those who can buy business property, there has seldom been a time in the history of Glendale when there were such buys as today.

One man who could speak nine tongues fluently, but had not the general mental capacity to learn to write one language, applied for a position as interpreter in New York.

Select Anaheim for Industrial Meeting

Anaheim is to be the meeting place for the first big industrial conference to be held this spring under the auspices of the California Real Estate Association. This was the announcement by J. E. Schumacher, before the Anaheim Realty board who declared that the state association was now considering Anaheim and San Diego and that the committee in charge planned two industrial conferences.

The attraction to Anaheim, it is said is due to the industrial drive by the Chamber of Commerce. It means that approximately 500 realtors and men engaged in other lines of endeavor would gather in Anaheim for a one day session in which the industrial and manufacturing situation in the southland would be the topic of discussion, according to State Vice President Everett A. White of Santa Ana.

Ladies' Night Planned For Realtors' Meeting

As a means of organizing and stimulating interest in the activities of the women realtors of the California Realty boards in the coming state convention to be held in Pasadena, the state women's committee at their last meeting, endorsed the idea of every realty board holding a ladies' night during the month of April, provided they have not held one this year.

In response to this suggestion, the chairman of the women's committee, reports that the Pasadena Realty board has already arranged to hold a ladies' night during the month of April.

NAME HANKS HEAD

Stanley C. Hanks, Madison, has been chosen to head the Wisconsin Association of Real Estate Boards.

Rush Work Of Installing Sidewalks, Curbs, Gas And Water Pipes In New Tract

Improvements are now going in rapidly at Glendale Highlands, reports T. W. Watson of 708 East Broadway, subdivider and sales agent for the tract. Sidewalks and curbing have already been installed on Maryland avenue and Maryland court and contracts for paving these streets have been let, he states, and the work of placing the gas and water pipes will start within a few days.

"After once being commenced there will be no let-up until the entire job has been finished," Mr. Watson said. "The work of installing electricity, which is now at the edge of the tract, will be done before the paving work takes place. It is expected all of this work will have been finished within 90 days.

Demand for Lots

"All of this goes to show that things are moving along nicely at Glendale Highlands. While things are reported to be a little quiet at the tracts that are located on the level stretches, or on the flats, as they are sometimes called, the call for the hillside lots continues as brisk as ever.

"There is a good reason for the continuance of demand for the lots in Glendale Highlands, however. Those who desire the very best in the way of homesites realize that of this wonderful hillside property there is a limited amount—that when the present available foothill homesites are gone there will be no more to be taken up.

"As the hillside homeplaces are coming more and more in demand and their appealing features are becoming more fully realized, those who are not satisfied with the flat, unsightly lots realize that if they are to "get in" on something of this character they must not delay.

Opportunities Seen

"Where a tract of the high character of Glendale Highlands is offered, in which the highest type of improvements are being installed and where these improvements are being placed at the very outset of tract operations, there lies an opportunity that the better class of home owner has been looking for. It is an ideal situation.

"This tract has everything a person could wish—scenery, location, accessibility, exclusiveness, quiet, modern improvements—everything. It is a section that can never be noisy. It is located away from noisy features and none can approach it. It commands a broad panorama of Glendale, Eagle Rock, the San Fernando valley and, away to the south, the Pacific ocean.

"It lies one block from the Pacific Electric and is just a step from stores, churches, theaters, lodges, library—in fact, everything that is needed. The prices of lots in this tract are extremely attractive and the terms are reasonable. All improvements are included in the cost of these lots. Building restrictions are sufficiently high to guarantee a high class of homes.

Drive Completed

"The cutting of Dwight drive through the tract has been finished. In addition to being a valuable improvement this permits those visiting the tract to reach the highest point on the property. From this lofty position it is possible to see every site on the tract and the visitor may, even before setting foot on the lot, select the site for his permanent home."

Glendale Highlands is being subdivided, improved and sold by the T. W. Watson company, 708 East Broadway. This firm, of which T. W. Watson is head, is handling some of the best tracts in Glendale today.

To reach this tract, go north on Brand to Mountain, then right to tract, or go north on Louise street to tract.

Glendale Stands Second In Total Area Of Land Subdivided During 1923

from the center of Los Angeles and takes in the cities of Glendale, Alhambra, Beverly Hills, Hyde Park, Eagle Rock, Pasadena, Burbank, Inglewood, Culver City, South Pasadena, San Gabriel and San Marino.

The cities of Long Beach, Venice, Ocean Park, Santa Monica, Compton, Torrance, Whittier, Van Nuys and Lankershim, in most of which there has been considerable subdivision activity, were not included.

Thirty-six thousand five hundred and fifty-one lots, or more than 76 per cent of the total number of lots subdivided in 1923, were within or just without the city limits of Los Angeles. Glendale with 5042 lots, as stated above, had the next largest number, followed by Alhambra, with 4332 new lots. Beverly Hills, Burbank, Inglewood, Pasadena, Hyde Park, San Gabriel, Culver City, South Pasadena, Eagle Rock and San Marino came next in order of importance.

First Six Months Busiest

Subdivision activity, in the area included, apparently reached its height in the first half of 1923. In the second half of the year, there was a decline in the total number of lots subdivided of approximately 26 per cent. The decline was general except for four of the suburbs included. In Burbank there was an increase in the second half approximately 183 per cent. Inglewood, Culver City and San Gabriel also showed increases over the first half of the year. The figures for Eagle Rock and Hyde Park are not comparable by periods. All of Eagle Rock and the major part of Hyde Park were consolidated with the city of Los Angeles in May, 1923.

Comparing growths for the different suburbs by years, Inglewood appears to have shown the greatest proportionate expansion, with 327 lots subdivided in 1922, and 2043 in 1923. Burbank came next with 499 new lots in 1922, and 2587 in 1923. Pasadena, Alhambra and Beverly Hills also reflected large proportionate increases in 1923. Glendale and Alhambra experienced the greatest numerical increases of any of the suburban cities.

Table Shows Lot Totals

The estimated value of taxed real property and improvements increased from $4,796,054,000 to $7,378,678,000, or 53.8 per cent; exempt real property (exclusive of national monuments and General Grant, Lassen Volcanic, Sequoia, and Yosemite National Parks) from $440,768,000 to $982,035,000, or 122.8 per cent; live stock from $175,732,000 to $191,108,000, or 8.7 per cent; farm implements and machinery from $39,530,000 to $102,632,000, or 159.6 per cent; manufacturing machinery, tools, and implements from $220,314,000 to $438,775,000, or 99.2 per cent; and railroads and other equipment from $573,560,000 to $710,573,000, or 23.9 per cent.

Privately owned transportation and transmission enterprises, other than railroads, increased in value from $966,098,000 to $1,057,560,000, or 9.5 per cent; and stocks of goods, vehicles other than motor, furniture, and clothing from $1,231,982,000 to $3,852,660,000, or 212.7 per cent. No comparison is possible for the value of motor vehicles, which was estimated in 1922 at $317,695,000, because no separate estimate was made in 1912.

In making these estimates the department followed in general the methods employed in making the estimates for 1912, though it is believed that in some respects the work in 1922 has been more thorough. It should be borne in mind that the increases in money value are to a large extent due to the rise in prices which has taken place in recent years, and so far as that is the case they do not represent corresponding increases in the quantity of wealth.

STANFORD MOVES BACK TO BRAND

Realtor Takes Lease Near New Building Site on Colorado Corner

In announcing the removal of his offices from 108 West Broadway to 227-A South Brand boulevard, J. F. Stanford, realtor, states that ten years of experience in the business has satisfied him Brand boulevard is the ideal location for a real estate office.

Not being able to get the location he wanted when his lease at 112½ South Brand boulevard expired last summer, he took the temporary office on West Broadway. The new office at 227-A South Brand is in the midst of activity and only a few doors from the corner of Colorado boulevard, soon to be improved with a five story building, he states.

Selling Since 1910

Mr. Stanford has long been considered an authority on business property. He has been active in selling and owning Brand boulevard frontage since locating in Glendale in 1910.

During the past year this realtor has been expanding the various departments of his business until he is now covering real estate in all branches, insurance and building. He feels the new location will make it possible for him to better meet the demands of his clientele.

Pass License Law for Realtors in Virginia

The Virginia legislature in the closing hours of its session passed the McChesney act establishing the plan of real estate licensing for Virginia. The provisions of the Virginia bill follow those of the model real estate license law formulated and approved by the National Association of Real Estate boards, and its passage in the interests of protection of the public against unreliable or unscrupulous dealers was strongly urged by the Virginia Real Estate association and by Virginia real estate boards. Final vote on the measure was 67 to 5.

Inaugurate Campaign To Bring About Speedy Sale Of Sites North Of City

In order to meet the demand for foothill residence property that has been manifesting itself so strongly of late, Twining & Myers, realtors, 108 West Broadway, have inaugurated a campaign that will, they claim, result speedily in the disposal of some of the most valuable sites to the north of Glendale, a region which they feel is destined to witness the greatest development of any of the territory immediately adjacent to the city.

RVE SPR

Their belief on the fact dale's growth must logi the highways that lea mountains to the n e property that they on the market ad- ncipal traffic arteries, idents easy access to Los Angeles, and yet demand that lies at on of the purchase of esites, that of having a home d the beauties of nature and surroundings where people of discernment can give free rein to their ideas of building homes that are distinctive and that reflect what they most desire in the places where they live.

At Woodland Park

In Woodland Park, Twining & Myers have laid out a tract that embraces everything that goes to make an ideal home place. Giant trees, sycamores and oaks beautify every lot and lend their shelter to the homes built in their shade. The streets are paved, outm venience has been installed and four bungalows, that have n erected with every modern feature embodied in their construction, mark the inception of a plan that has for its object the establishment of a district whose dominating characteristic will be one of refinement, but that will yet be within the reach of people of moderate means.

Mesa Crest is another subdivision that is destined, according to W. L. Twining, to show a rapid advance in values, situated, as it is, diagonally across Verdugo road from the La Canada Country club and affording its residents a wide view of the entire La Canada and La Crescenta valleys. Some lots in this tract, Mr. Twining claims, have been sold and their clients have doubled their money.

The magnificent homes that already dot the region surrounding Mesa Crest will set the standard for all use that are to follow, Mr. Twining believes. Lying close to the foot of Montrose, Mesa Crest has street car service only two blocks distant, he said. Modern stores supply the needs of its resident and the opportunity to realize substantial advance on one's investment here is said to be unrilled.

Lots Selling Rapidly

Another subdivision that is selling rapidly, Mr. Twining claims, is Burton Heights at La Crescenta, where improvements are now being made at a rate that will shortly convert this tract into one of the most desirable in the country tributary to Glendale. Buyers who invest in Burton Heights lots now, says Mr. Twining, cannot fail to realize a substantial profit, if they are minded to sell again as soon as the improvements are all in, while those who buy with the idea of building a home will find a location close to the homes of people who have established one of the notable communities of the Southland, centering, as it does, around the Oakmont Country club and social life.

In addition to their subdivision activities, Twining & Myers are enlarging the scope of their operations to embrace other branches of the real estate business that will permit them to serve their clients in every detail of any transaction that they may undertake.

Pre-Opening Of Fairyland Tomorrow Will Reveal To Many Beauties Of Tract

The old adage of the early bird will bring many prospective buyers to Fairyland tomorrow forenoon, Sunday, March 23, when the pre-opening sale of lots in this beautiful tract takes place, according to Smith & Redman, of 214 North Brand boulevard, selling agents for the property.

Fairyland derives its name from the prize-winning Glendale float in the 1924 Tournament of Roses. It is located on the million dollar scenic boulevard now under construction, that will link this city with Pasadena.

L. W. Chobe, who designed the Glendale float "Fairyland," resides in the district, and it is there, feel Messrs. Smith and Redman, that he gets his inspiration for the beautiful designs he creates.

The tract is reached by driving east on Broadway or Wilson avenue to Harvey drive and following the arrows; or one may drive east to Verdugo and Sycamore Canyon roads to Sierra avenue, thence to the tract.

Buyers who come out to the tract tomorrow afternoon will have an opportunity to buy large, level lots, including paved streets, curbs, water, gas and electricity, for from $950 to $2050, on terms of 20 per cent down and the balance 2 per cent per month, including interest, according to Messrs. Smith and Redman.

Easily Reached

Home-seekers are urged to see this beautiful tract before buying elsewhere and the subdividers will call in a car for everyone who is interested and take them to the tract and back to their homes.

The view from the property, they state, is particularly fine and the restfulness that comes from being protected from the noises of the city is one of the most attractive things about Fairyland, which is all its name implies and more.

Yet Messrs. Smith & Redman point out that the tract is less than five minutes from the corner of Brand boulevard and Broadway, by automobile, and is convenient to car service, schools, churches and markets.

RARE BEAUTY AT GLEN OAKS TRACT

John R. Powers Says Rains Bring Forth Attractive Feature in Groves

Each week sees the scenic boulevard being pushed through Glen Oaks draw closer to Pasadena, reports John R. Powers of the Glen Oaks syndicate. When completed, he states, this thoroughfare will link the tract with San Bernardino and Santa Barbara, via Mountain street, Sycamore Canyon road and Sierra avenue in Glendale, and the new Mulholland "skyline" drive.

The recent rains have transformed Glen Oaks into a green bower of rare beauty, states Mr. Powers. Always green and luxuriant, even in mid-summer, the tract now presents an appearance that must be seen to be described.

Nature At Its Best

Wild flowers abound and the great groves of live oaks and sycamores are a riot of ferns. The lots are going fast, Mr. Powers states, and many beautiful homes are already built on choice sites.

"Now is the time to come and select your homesite at Glen Oaks," he says. Every day someone else is getting an ideal lot. It will pay every prospective home-builder not to put off longer that oft-promised visit to the tract. Come out tomorrow and if you haven't time to bring your lunch and treat yourselves to a picnic, drive out for a half hour and look over this beautiful tract."

ABATEMENT SUITS

REDDING, Cal., March 22.—"I'll put padlocks on every door in Kennett's so-called whiskey row," said District Attorney Jesse W. Carter as he filed thirteen abatement suits against as many Kennett property owners. "They were notified in February that nuisances incident to selling alcoholic liquor must be stopped," said Carter. "I have evidence that the notices have not been heeded."

ROBERTS IS BACK

LOS ANGELES, March 22.—Theodore Roberts, actor, who was stricken ill in Pittsburg, Pa., while on a theatrical tour several weeks ago, has returned here. The actor's wife, a doctor and a nurse accompanied him. Cecil B. DeMille, director, met Roberts upon his arrival here.

Desire For Country Life Shown As City Dwellers See Changed Conditions

The wholesome desire for country life with city advantages is responsible for the remarkable city-to-country movement that is now sweeping the United States, according to M. Walters of Barnum-Walters, dividers of Sparr Heights.

"In the past, life in the country was always coupled with hardships. There were only the rudest kind of conveniences and advantages. Life was dull and monotonous.

"That started the movement toward the city, and was largely responsible for the congestion that followed.

"Today it is entirely different and the thinking individual who really wishes to enjoy life at its best, has again turned to the country as the one best bet for a desirable place to live.

Automobile Helps

"First of all, as a reason for the changed conditions of country life, is the automobile. Country communities are no longer isolated. It's only a few minutes into town for thousands and thousands of country dwellers in all parts of the country.

"Gradually, too, the city conveniences—electric lights, gas, etc., were available.

"Now we have the radio, which puts the best entertainment of the cities right into the country homes.

"The popularity of our own subdivision, Sparr Heights, is ample proof that the homeowner of today is turning his attention to homesites 'farther out.'

Cites Advantages

"We have everything the city has to offer in the way of conveniences, and, in addition, we have country life at its best.

"Every lot in the newest and finest section of Sparr Heights—Montecito Park—faces the Oakmont Country club, which is now open.

"To the lover of country club life, this is a feature not to be overlooked.

"Building is active in Montecito Park, and sites in all parts of the tract are selling rapidly."

CHARGES CORRUPTION

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Charging "official corruption," Representative Kindred, Republican, of New York, offered a resolution in the House proposing an investigation of the prohibition enforcement bureau in the treasury department. A probe along similar lines is now being made in the Senate.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

Author of Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

A. B.—Your freckles will probably disappear as you get older. Peroxide of hydrogen or lemon juice are safe home remedies, but if the freckles are black or disfiguring I would not try to treat them myself. Better see a skin specialist.

Mrs. S.—You say your fingernails are brittle and ragged and unsightly. Your general health seems good but you eat no fruit and no milk. The hair and nails are dependent upon the general nutrition and it may be possible that you are not getting sufficient of the vitamins you would get in fruit, nor enough of the vitamins and complete protein that you would get in milk. I advise you to add these to your diet in liberal amounts.

"Dear Dr. Peters—Hurrah! You have come to the Too Too Thins, although you didn't stay with us long. Please return! I am anxious to know how one can fatten the hands and forearms.

"Does cauliflower come under the head of green vegetables? Do baked apples cause acidity?—M. S."

You see, I cannot give quite so much attention on the T. T. T.'s as I do to the F. F. F. (friendly fat fraternity) because there are so many more of the latter. However, II will come back to you quite often.

Cauliflower and cabbage would come intermediate between the green leaf and the root vegetables. Cauliflower is high in the anti-neurotic vitamins, and also has some of the anti-scorbutic vitamins. It is a wholesome vegetable, but would not have quite the vitamin value that the green leaf vegetables have.

No, baked apples should not cause acidity.

Your arms and hands will fatten up as you fatten up. Exercise of the hands and arms, if kept up long enough, will develop the muscles and they will round out and seem less scrawny. You must remember that it takes some time for exercises to register in actual development.

Mrs. R.—Send for our article on constipation. I advise you very strenuously to stop taking pills every night.

The thing that troubles you around your toenails may be a corn. Go to a chiropodist if you can't seem to get rid of it by home remedies. The following is a prescription for a good home remedy: Salicylic acid, one dram; flexible collodium, one ounce. Ten grams of cannabis indica may be added to relieve pain. Soak the foot before applying this, then apply the solution night and morning for three to six days. Soak the foot again in hot water and soften with one teaspoonful of baking soda to the quart of water. The corn can now, usually, be gently pulled off.

R.—A callous spot on the ball of the foot usually accompanies the falling of the anterior arch of the foot. The remedy I gave in the above answer for corns will also be effective for the callous spot, but you may have to wear an arch support—which should be fitted by an orthopedic specialist—before you get relief, and you must take foot exercises to strengthen the arch.

One of the best exercises is (1) walking slowly on the outer border of the feet with the toes turned in; (2) pick up small articles with the toe, such as a pencil or a marble; (3) rising on the toes. These exercises must be practiced faithfully two or three times a day. They will strengthen both the anterior and the posterior arches.

Shoes with a straight inner border and with plenty of room for the toes, with a medium low, broad heel, should be worn. Remember, the normal position in walking is straight ahead, as an Indian walks, not toeing out, as used to be taught.

Mrs. B.—We recently had an article on dandruff. You may have it by sending for it according to the dules of the column.

Mr. J.—We have articles on balanced diet, high blood pressure and auto-intoxication. Send for them. Include a s. a. s. e. (self-addressed, stampe denvelope).

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s. a. s. e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

TO ANNOUNCE HER ENGAGEMENT

Report Californian Won Heart of Geraldine

Geraldine Graham

NEW YORK, March 22.—Geraldine Miller Graham, one of the several thousand young women selected by the Prince of Wales as "the most beautiful girl in America," and the heroine of a broken engagement in which Whitney Warren, Jr., was the other principal figure, has lost her heart again.

From the Pacific coast comes the news that Geraldine is on the verge of announcing to an expectant world in general and international society in particular that she will place her heart, hand and future into the keeping of the eldest son of a celebrated and financially renowned California clan.

The young man's name is withheld for the present.

"Gerry" is popular in society. She is the daughter of Mrs. William Miller Graham, for years a social leader.

Her reason for sending an engagement ring back to Whitney Warren, Jr., son of the famous architect, has never been fully explained.

Heart and Home Problems

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

A TRIANGLE

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been married two years and three months, have a lovely home, car, everything to make work easy, and my husband is good and kind. He always takes me with him when he goes out and gives me all the money. I have five step-children and they are nice to me. But in spite of all this I cannot love my husband as I know a wife should.

I loved him until I married him and I learned then that he deceived me by going with a married woman. I had told him it would be necessary for him to decide between her and me. He told me that he would never marry her, but intended to marry me. He promised he would give her up and I thought he did. He assured me from time to time that he had broken with her. I married him thinking he was keeping his promise, but I learned that he never stopped going with her up to the night before our marriage. When I learned the truth and he denied it, my heart was crushed.

The woman called him on the phone after we were married and I learned of it. I asked him about it and at first he denied it, but finally he admitted it was so. I suspected that they had continued to meet, too. I cannot begin to tell you all that occurred between those two before we were married and I suppose after, too.

I despise deception and cannot love him because of it. I am not affectionate toward him, but he is with me. I have told him that I do not love him and can never forgive him. He ha begged me to forgive and said he didn't know why he did it. He did not think at the time that I would ever learn the truth.

I am not happy. All the love in my heart and soul is dead. I feel that I am in the world all by myself. I cannot lay aside my distrust for my wonderful, good husband. I have tried with all my soul to be affectionate and forgive, but I cannot.

His daughter is doing the same thing. She is trying to hold two and does not want one to know of the other. I have talked to her about it, but to no avail.

Do you think I should forgive my husband?

Unfortunately I am one of those persons who would cut off her right hand rather than deceive anyone. Once my confidence is shaken in anyone I am through forever.

Am I nursing a wrong when I have no right to? E. F. P.

Intolerance and lack of charity toward another's mistakes will never bring you happiness or help in the least. Yes, I think you are nursing a wrong needlessly. Of course, it is unfortunate that your husband is lacking in a sense of honor, but since he is, try to love him for his good qualities. You are only cheating yourself when you refuse to be affectionate and loving, and, unless you soften in your attitude, your husband will doubtless turn from you to some other woman who will show him the love he craves. By all means forgive and try to forget. From now on never mention the unfortunate affair to your husband and love him so much that he will not be tempted to turn to some one else for affection.

Each spring brings its problem of fighting the clothes moth. The thrifty housekeeper will go to any amount of trouble to prevent this persistent little pest from ruining the heavier garments which she is laying away for the summer.

The city housewife is more fortunate than her country sister, in regard to the moth question. For every large city has at least one shop which offers fur-storage facilities where heavy coats (even without fur) may be kept during the warm months at a very moderate charge. This saves the housekeeper considerable trouble and anxiety.

The woman who lives in the country, however, must become her own clothes-storage expert. The following measures will insure her success in this work:

The first step in laying away any sort of wool garment, is to brush it well out of doors, paying special attention to seams, pockets, the under side of collars and other places where dust collects and moth eggs are likely to be deposited. Then sun and air the garment for several days. Next, go over it with gasoline or benzine (these substances do not injure color; but they are extremely inflammable, so the work should be done out of doors).

Some garments are not injured by being saturated with formalin; this additional measure will absolutely kill moth eggs and larvae, so it is worth using if possible. Dip a small sample, or an inconspicuous part, of the goods into the formalin, as an experiment, before going ahead with the entire garment.

After brushing, sunning and cleaning the clothes, we are next confronted with the question of packing them away. There are several methods of doing this: 1. In camphor or tar bags manufactured for the purpose. 2. In home-made, similarly-shaped bags of newspapers with all cracks sealed with gummed paper tape. 3. In heavy card-board suit-boxes, with cracks sealed with paper tape. These are all good methods, and the housekeeper may take her choice.

Camphor balls, cedar chips, tobacco, wisps of cotton, wet with oil of cedar and then tied in muslin bags, and other moth-repellents are good to use inside of the storage bundles; these repellants will not kill moths or prevent the eggs from hatching if they already exist in the stored garment; but they will keep outside moths away. Hanging the storage bundles in a light, airy place will also protect them against further moth-invasion.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. Be sure to use your full name, street number, and the name of your city and state.—The Editor

by EDNA KENT FORBES

SOME BATH LUXURIES

The bath water should always be hot enough or cold enough to stimulate the skin. A bath that is merely tepid or about blood heat has no such action and is merely apt to produce a chill afterwards. The bath water should always be soft, for hard water is not good for the skin and isn't even cleansing.

There are a thousand and one ways of softening the water. A very nice lotion which softens the water and which is good for the skin is made by mixing together four ounces of ordinary white vinegar and four ounces of benzoin. This mixture should be kept in a large bottle in some quite warm place for a week, then strained off into another bottle. About a teaspoonful should be added to the warm bath water.

Recently I gave several bath powder formulas. Here is another: Precipitated chalk, two ounces; powdered boracic, two ounces; talcum, six ounces. This is particularly good for a skin with a tendency towards excessive or odorous perspiration because of the large proportion of boracic.

A delightful lotion for an oily skin is made by combining two ounces of witch hazel, two ounces of rosewatre and two drams of boracic acid. This is most effective if rubbed over the face and neck and under the armpits after a bath, but as it can be used several times a day I would suggest that a little piece of absorbent cotton be wet with it and that it be rubbed over the face every time it is washed.

Colored perfumed bath salts are no doubt delightful to use and a great temptation to buy. Unfortunately they are expensive, more because of their costly wrappings than their virtues. They do soften the water, but common sea salt in bags at 25 cents for a good-sized portion has just as much virtue. If a little powdered borax is mixed with the salt it will soften the hardest water.

Miss L. E. Cheesman is a curator in the London, England, zoo. With a number of scientists Miss Cheesman will soon start on the yacht St. George for the Southern Pacific to get first-hand data of the life there. The expedition will be under the direction of the Scientific Expeditionary Research association.

A search will also be made for a $35,000,000 treasure said to be buried on the Cocos Islands by the mutinous crew of the British ship Mary Read. Machinery has been sent to the island for the first digging.

WHAT THE WOMEN SAY:

Blanche Bates, the eminent actress, says that the stage "makes even greater demands upon a person than literature, music, sculpture or any of the other artistic professions. Good health is an essential, for back of every success in the theater will be found a record of very real drudgery. Grace is another necessity, and correct enunciation and pronunciation. Intelligence also counts, for how can there be any real interpretation of what an author has written without accurate understanding? If one wishes to go on the stage and has these physical and mental qualifications, let them secure a position with some stock company, for it is the one and only training school."

FEDERAL TAX ATTACK

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Democratic attack upon the refunding of federal taxes by the treasury department was launched in the Senate when Senators King, Democrat, of Utah, and McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, demanded public investigation of all tax claims before their settlement.

The attack followed the publication of official records by Senator McKellar, showing that $200,000,000 in taxes were refunded by the treasury in the last three years. The records revealed that high government officials were directly benefitted by the refunds.

TELLS DEATH CAUSE

LOS ANGELES, Mar. 22.—Concussion of the brain, produced internally by an enlarged thymus gland under strain of excitement, caused the death of John Toothman, 18, who fell dead in a fist fight Wednesday night with R. D. McLean, 17, held on a charge of manslaughter, according to the official report of Autopsy Surgeon Wagner. Dr. Wagner's report is expected to result in the release of young McLean, who had insisted that Toothman's death was caused when he stumbled and fell to the ground during the fight. An inquest was set for this afternoon.

...MB WOODS FOR YOUNG PITCHERS

Big League Managers Hunting for Men to Bolster Up Hurling Staffs

A casual remark in "Irish" Meusel's letter to Frank Kerwin, received this week from Sarasota, Fla., where the Angeleno is training, to the effect that it looks like Shaw had picked up two or three good rookie pitchers, is indicative of the effort being exerted by every big league manager to bolster up pitching staffs in almost every case are far too weak to carry the team through the summer's campaign with any degree of success.

All sport writers of the East are agreed that never have the chances of young pitchers been so good to break into big company as they are this year.

Before the banishment of the freak deliveries and the adoption of the lively ball young hurlers were a drug on the market. The cry went up from every training camp for hitters. Three hundred sluggers were hunted desperately by scouts, and any pitcher who perchance could hit was immediately advised to forget slab work and school himself for the outfield.

Times Have Changed

But conditions are just reversed today. Never has the hitting been so heavy, and the bushes are being searched with a fine-tooth comb in an effort to locate some boy who can pitch. The need of new pitchers, and the chance that is offered them, is well exemplified by Meusel's letter. In former years a kid pitcher took his first few seasons on the bench in the dugout, absorbing baseball knowledge and lore from the great Jawn. This year, according to "Irish," McGraw is planning to use Dean and Maun, two of his new men, in regular order, on the strength of their showing in Florida.

His letter is also characteristic of conditions existing in the other departments of the game. He does not mention any infielders or outfielders. The veterans here will have the call. Very few youngsters will make the grade, and those who do will have to thank some lucky break in their fortune.

Maranville May Go

Dudley Lee, the $50,000 shortstop bought by the Boston Red Sox from Tulsa, has a wonderful chance. So has Wright, the new short field man with Bill McKechnie's Pirates at Paso Robles. "Rabbit" Maranville is none too popular with Barney Dreyfuss, and there have been many rumors of his being traded to the Cubs.

According to Meusel's letter, the Giants took a flock of pitchers south with them but McGraw already has started to turn them loose for failure to show any stuff.

HAUGDAHL PLANS TO RACE IN FIAT

Speed King Will Compete In Helmet Dash at Ascot Track on Sunday

Responsive to a flood of requests from Italian racing fans, George Bentel announced today that Sig Haugdahl will be permitted to drive his over-size Fiat in the Helmet Dash at Ascot speedway Sunday afternoon. While the Helmet contest is programmed as a free-for-all, no cars larger than 300 cubic inches have been allowed in the dash, the single exception being Haugdahl's participation with the Fiat two weeks ago.

"Haughdahl was a hero the Sunday he drove the Fiat," said Bentel. "Just because the car is too big for certain class aces is no reason why the Italians should be pevented from witnessing their favorite car in action. Haughdahl will use his Deusenberg in his other work on Sunday, but I have secured the consent of the other drivers to his use of the great Italian machine in the dash."

So intent is the Norwegian speed king on making good in Los Angeles and regaining the prestige he lost when DePalma outstripped the unprepared Deusenberg last Sunday, that he has abandoned plans for a visit to Australia where he was scheduled to participate in the opening of the new Sydney speedway. "Hug" is emphatic in the assertion that he will remain here until he trims DePalma and all others who block his path to the undisputed championship of the speedway.

Leon Duray, Art Davidson, Eddie Meyer, Fred Frame, Fred Horey, Fred Lecklider and Ralph DePalma and Haugdahl are the entrants in the "battle royal" which will be run at a distance of 15 laps. DePalma looms as the favorite with Duray a close second. The chances of Art Davidson are probably enhanced through his car being designed and built by Louis Chevrolet for Ascot.

GOLDSTEIN GRABS CHAMPION'S TITLE

Joe Lynch, Weak by Making Weight, Makes Futile Showing In Ring

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service

NEW YORK, March 22.—A pound of flesh duly exacted, made Shylock an immortal, and last night, at Madison Square Garden, it aided in transforming one Abe Goldstein from quite an ordinary young man to bantamweight champion of the world at large.

Goldstein unfrocked Joe Lynch, the reigning titleholder, winning the decision by a margin so wide as to be almost ludicrous. Lynch was only a pale, anaemic shadow of the champion that was, and could neither box nor hit, and had he a ball and chan on either foot, his speed could have been no less.

He had left both strength and condition on the scales of the boxing commission headquarters that afternoon.

Abe Forced Fight

That remark is neither alibi for Lynch nor deprecation of Goldstein. It is just a statement of facts. Contrary to his usual deportment, Abe Goldstein fought almost with effrontery last night, forcing matters from first to last. It was his greatest effort in five years of ring experiences and, appropriately enough, it gained him the highest honors within the gift of his division. What mght have happened had Lynch been able to make the bantamweight limit of 118 pounds with ease and facility is another story and has no place here.

Suffice it to say that Lynch was a full pound overweight when, minus lunch, he got on the scales at 2 o'clock yesterday. Enter here, with stealth and a bright idea, Willie Lewis, who is not only the manager of Goldstein, but so smart in a fistic sense as to be almost unpleasant about it.

"I won't claim your forfeit, Joe," quoth William. "Come back in two hours and weigh again."

The forfeit amounted to $1250. It is barely possible Mr. Lewis figured that further weight reduction by Lynch would be worth more to him (Lewis) than paltry, sordid dollars. Anyway Joe Lynch walked, ran, starved and was subjected to the weakening process of a dry rub for two hours in order to make weight.

Out of Bantam Class

Just what this effort took away from the fighter, only Lynch himself can know. After the bout the former champion was quoted as saying that never again would he fight in the bantamweight class.

We don't know as we blame him. It may be that Lynch is through anyhow. It may have been that he couldn't have beaten Goldstein last night in any case, for Abe fought like a champion to the manner born. But only a weakened Lynch could have lost fourteen out of fifteen rounds, been saved by the bell in the second and ninth, and failed in the tenth to follow up a right cross that brought Goldstein to his level and victory for a brief moment within reach.

Cubs and Tigers Will Tangle Again Today

LOS ANGELES, March 22.—The Chicago Cubs and Vernon Tigers tangle again here today, after the Cubs handed the Tigers an 8-to-7 defeat yesterday. Frank Keck will probably hurl for Vernon.

The Cubs will play the Angels tomorrow in their last exhibition game against the Coast leaguers here this year. A week from Monday, however, they will play the Pittsburgh Pirates here.

Turgeon, Cub infielder, who played with Beaumont last year, may be turned over to the Angels.

Seals and Pirates To Meet In Series

SAN FRANCISCO, March 22.—Accompanied by Barney Dreyfus, president of the Pittsburg club of the National league, the Pirates arrived here today to open an eight game series with the San Francisco club of the Pacific coast league.

BOND INQUIRY LOOMS

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Another congressional investigation—into the reports of bond duplication in the government printing office, became imminent when the House rules committee favorably reported a resolution for such an inquiry by a committee of five members of the House.

Orange, Blue Gateway Leads To Work For Army Of Giant Pitching Hopefuls

By NORMAN E. BROWN

SARASOTA, Fla., March 22.—One gets two impressions from his first visit to the Giants' training camp in this city.

The first is that times have changed. That impression comes when one watches such hardened old campaigners as McGraw, Hughie Jennings, Cozy Dolan and Eddie Ainsmith trip from the lattice-covered dressing pavilion out through an orange and blue coated entrance to the ball diamond.

The second is that Jawn and his brain staff have but two problems to solve. One is to rebuild their pitching staff and the other to get a good line on the rookie infielders and outfielders before they ship most of them back to the bushes.

However, the first problem is a nut-cracker in itself. McGraw's catching staff, with Hankus Gowdy and Frank Snyder on the job, is ready for another pennant chase. His infield, with Kelley on first, Frisch at second, Travis Jackson in Bancroft's place at short and Groh at third, is settled. And Billy Southworth, Emil Meusel and Ross Young can hold up their heads with any outfield. So only the pitching department is lacking. This woefully so.

Staff Is Wrecked

Art Nehf, Hugh McQuillan, Rosy Ryan, Jesse Barnes, Jack Scott and Jack Bentley formed McGraw's staff most of last season. John Watson joined it during the summer in a trade with Boston. Barnes and Scott passed from the club over winter. McQuillan's work—he won fifteen and lost fourteen—did not thrill McGraw with expectations for the coming season. Watson won but nine games all told last year.

So the Giant boss finds himself with Nehf, Bentley and Ryan, on whom he can rely; Watson as a possible regular; the veteran Joe Oeschger, obtained over winter; young Virgil Barnes, who promises and then disappoints, and two or three likely youngsters who may produce—and may not.

Truly, nothing over which a gent who wants to make it four straight league pennants and three out of four world's series victories, can rave. So, from his dozen or so pitching rookies McGraw and his aides hope to pluck at least one man who can take his turn with some success this year and find two or three others who can be molded into big league hurlers before Art Nehf, McQuillan and Oeschger fall by the wayside.

Jennings is pleased with the way three or four of the youngsters look. Walter Huntzinger, Wayland Dean, Ernie Maun, Earl Webb, Kent Greenfield, Howard Baldwin and Joe Bradshaw among themselves ought to produce something.

Dean and Maun haven't shown much so far for the simple reason both have been concerned more over part of their purchase money than a big league berth.

Baldwin, the pitching star of the International League since Jack Bentley's departure, looks good to date. Bradshaw is the chap who won but five games and lost seven with Toledo and was then sent to the Texas League, but so impressed the Giant scouts they okeyed him. Huntzinger was the star of the University of Pennsylvania nine for two years and is said to have an uncanny faculty of reading batters and their weaknesses. He worked in a few games last season after joining the Giants from college. Kent Greenfield comes from the Portsmouth club. Webb is the chap the Giants bought from Memphis two years ago for real dough-re-me.

If they get under way Maun and Dean should have a good chance in the race for berths. Webb may need another season. Huntzinger probably will be retained for bull pen duty. Bradshaw is a gamble. He may startle McGraw when he gets under way. He looks sweet in action.

But it's a guess with all of them and pennants can't be nailed to the masthead with guesses.

McGraw needs pitchers, some immediate and more a few days after that. He and his "brains department" are centering their efforts on filling the need.

That's why a tired army of pitchers plod out of that orange and into the bungalow and leaves Cozy Dolan, Frank Dwyer and the other generalissimos in executive session before the water cooler.

GLENDALE SQUAD IN TRACK EVENT

Competes With Ten Schools For Valuable Cup at Pasadena Field

Coach Normal Hayhurst will lead his track squad to Pasadena this afternoon at the invitation of the Pasadena high school to participate in a track meet in which eleven schools will be represented at Horrell field. This is the first invitational track and field meet given by the Pasadena High school.

Coach Hipplar of Pasadena has received entries from Glendale, South Pasadena, Monrovia, San Fernando, Covina, Alhambra, Downey, Citrus Union, El Monte, Chaffey Union and his own school.

Contest for Cup

A cup has been donated by Harold Hoffman, wealthy Pasadena sportsman, to be known as the Hoffman cup, which will be awarded to the school winning the meet three consecutive years.

Although Pasadena is slightly favored to win, Glendale is generally recognized as the runner up, and given an outside chance to win first honors. Other recognized squads are Downey, Chaffey Union and El Monte.

Eddie Pollack, Pasadena sprinter, is the favorite in the dashes, while Fish, Hayhurst's star 440 man, will probably win first in that event.

College Athletes to Stage Track Contest

BERKELEY, March 22.—Ushering in the 1924 college track season, the oval teams of University of Southern California and University of California will meet here this afternoon in a dual clash. The southerners will be represented by one of the strongest track teams ever turned out by U. S. C. and the Bears are prepared for stiff competition.

Sport Snap Shots

By JACK KEENE

Dutch Leonard has seen the error of his ways—as adjudged by Judge Landis—too late. The once great southpaw has been told he can remain in outlaw baseball.

In 1915-16-18 Leonard, then with the Red Sox, was rated as one of the best pitchers in the game. The war called him for a time and when he returned to the diamond was told to go to the Yankees. Dutch balked and eventually was purchased by the Detroit Tigers. Two years ago Leonard decided he was worth more money to Owner Navin and struck for a $15,000 salary.

Navin told him the figure couldn't be met and Leonard jumped the traces, went to the Pacific coast and began playing independent ball. Recently Leonard decided he was wasting what few good years remained in his baseball life and asked to be reinstated. Landis, according to dispatches, told Leonard his plea was a bit tardy.

Once in a while we find things as they should be. In the first race at Tia Juana recently "Too Much" won and "Not Enough" finished second. Apparently both ran true to form.

George Cutshaw, veteran second baseman recently given his unconditional release by the Detroit Tigers, may be seen in a managerial capacity on the Pacific coast the coming season, it is said. Incidentally Ty Cobb and Owner Navin have shown their appreciation of his services last season by telling Cutshaw that should he fail to land something by the time the bell rings he will be welcome on the Detroit payroll again.

Illness kept him in the hospital for a time last season. Cutshaw himself is not sure whether or not he will be in shape to play the coming season. His release was given him recently primarily to allow him to discuss freely any offers that might come his way.

The captain of Cincinnati University's basketball team and one of the most popular lads in that institution is Carson Hoy. It is his third year on the basketball varsity team and he has starred for two seasons on the baseball squad, and last year was a member of the varsity line.

Now, the point of interest is that Carson is the son of William E. "Dummy" Hoy, old-time star with the Cincinnati Reds.

Under Buck Ewing's management Hoy was rated as one of the greatest stars of his day and still ranks as one of the old-time immortals. The handicap he suffered in hearing and talking earned him his title, but it was tacked onto him in a spirit of affection alone.

The elder Hoy bought himself a farm in Mount Healthy, Ohio, when he quit the game and the younger Hoy gained his splendid physique doing the chores about the farm before he went to college.

Pitcher George Dumont deserves to win at least a berth with the New York Yankees if he doesn't become a regular. For perseverance such as that exhibited by Dumont should be rewarded. Back around 1915 Dumont got a chance with the Washington Senators. Later he showed to advantage for a time with the Red Sox. Then he was shunted back to the minors. He pitched for Atlanta last year and the Yankee scouts were so taken with his work that they recommended he be signed. He was. With such pitchers as Shawkey, Bush, Jones, Hoyt and Pennock on the firing line the chances of breaking in regularly seem remote, but Dumont could render valuable service as relief hurler.

While the baseball boys are laying plans for their spring training sesaon we hope that none of them are figuring on getting the writing fever or grabbing off any extra kale under their pillows. Let's have one season without any need for chloride of lime.

One reason we have holdouts in baseball every spring is that the fellow who fails to sign the first contract tendered him gets more attention than the gent who "takes his medicine gracefully."

DOUBLE BILL AT WHITE SOX PARK

Caseys Play Curtain Raiser, Pasadena Merchants to Try for Revenge

With many of the counter-attractions featured last Sunday out of the way, Frank Kerwin expects to pack the White Sox park tomorrow with the double bill that he has arranged. In the curtain-raiser the Long Beach Caseys will invade this territory in the second game of the Southern California K. C. schedule, meeting Harry Manush's bunch of balltossers.

The big event of the afternoon will be the meeting of the White Sox and the Pasadena Merchants. Last week the Sox nosed out the Merchants in a thrilling ten-inning contest, 8-7. Until the eighth inning the visitors were leading, 7-1, when Lefty Thomas weakened and finally lost the game. So sure are the Pasadena men of winning that they offered to play on a winner-take-all basis. Kerwin accepted the challenge, and they will go at it again.

Thornton to Pitch

Lefty Thomas, former Coast Leaguer, will again do the hurling for the Merchants, with Thornton of U. S. C. on the mound for the Sox. The Glendale team will line up the same except for the addition of "Cy" Ellington, Van Nuys hard hitting infielder, who will play at short. Joe Lewis will again do the receiving.

The K. C. tracas, which starts at 12:30, will bring together two of the teams which are recognized as probable pennant winners in the league. Glendale trimmed Hollywood last Sunday, 5-3, and Galliger, who pitched Manush's crowd to victory, will again be on the mound against the visitors.

CIRCUS TO SHOW HERE MARCH 29

Al. G. Barnes Attractions to Play One-Day Stand For Glendalians

"There's a Burma girl a-waiting, an' I know she thinks of me," one is likely to quote from Rudyard Kipling, when the Burmese "rapid transit rolling stock" with the Al G. Barnes wild animal circus comes to Glendale on March 29.

This unit of the Al G. Barnes great wild animal circus represents a part of the 2000 educated wild animals and 1080 performers and actors, including three tribes of Indians—Washoes, Escondidoes and Apaches, who will play an important part in the sensational circus feature, "Pocahontas at the Court of Queen Anne," the colossal fantastic extravaganza that opens the big program.

Lots of Girls

More than 100 pretty girls from sun-kissed California, many of whom have appeared in some of the latest motion picture productions of this year, will also be included in the cast of chorus and ballet girls.

And last—but not least, there will be the greatest movie star of them all—Joe Martin, himself.

It's the show that's different.

There are three times as many natives as whites in South Africa

SKATING BEAR IS KIDDIES' DELIGHT

'Alice Teddy' Features Act At Glendale Theater, Buck Jones on Screen

There are some vaudeville acts which get better with age. Alice Teddy, the roller skating bear, is one. She is the headliner at the Glendale theatre today—a real treat for the kiddies. More applause for the bear than Teddie Williams, in "Creole Sauce," who also is good.

Nat and Jackie Farnum present "The Mode Show," a clever little vehicle in which they disport, cavort and exhort. Hyland, Grant and Hyland are a versatile trio, giving Glendale the kind of entertainment they like.

Vance and Aileen have an appealing number called "Fiddlin' Around," and it goes over with a punch. Then there is Buck Jones, featured in the film, "Hell's Hole," that is held over by popular demand. A good show to see tonight at the Glendale theatre.

SCOUT AFFAIR IS HELD ON ISLAND

District Commissioner Is Entertained at Avalon Court of Honor

An interesting account of a Boy Scout demonstration and court of honor is given by Mrs. Benjamin Robison, who has just returned from a week's visit at Catalina island as the guest of Mrs. D. M. Renton. She states that the big affair was held at the Atwater hotel with Mr. and Mrs. William Wrigley, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wrigley and J. H. Patrick of Chicago as guests of honor.

Others attending were Tallman Trask and Vernon L. Baird, Scout executives of the Pasadena Scout district.

Eagle Scoutmaster H. Benjamin Robison and his troop were in charge of the program, which was highly praised by the Scout officials and other guests. Mr. Robison was formerly scoutmaster of Troop 2 of Glendale and is still district commissioner of La Crescenta.

Following the court of honor Mr. Robison and his troop were entertained at a costume dancing party by the Campfire girls of Avalon.

ARTISTS TO HOLD OPEN HOUSE WEEK

Invite Art Lovers to View Paintings, Sculptures, In Local Studios

The artists of Glendale will hold open house to the public all week, March 24 to 31, as a part of the "Open House Week" movement sponsored by the District Federation of Women's clubs. Over 120 painters, sculptors, etchers, miniature workers and others engaged in artistic endeavor in this section of Southern California will observe the week and the people of Glendale are cordially invited to drop in on their artists and get acquainted.

Following is a partial list: Mrs. Roy A. Ballagh, president of the Glendale Art association, 202 West Doran street; John W. Cotton, an etcher of international note, 1202 East Colorado street; Walter L. Cheever, a landscape painter, 1116 North Louise street; Harold Swartz, one of the most promising young sculptors in the west, 4116 Verdant avenue; Mrs. Dorothy Degnan, 407 East Chestnut street; Mrs. Lillian Hounsell, 604 South Glendale avenue; E. Grayson Sayre, 914 South Central avenue; Lillian Sayre, same address; Fred Watrin, 617 South Brand boulevard; Miss Mary Belle Williams of San Diego, visiting Dr. Carolyn Lester Paine, 515 North Kenwood street; Mrs. P. S. Bernays, 2121 Canada boulevard, and Mrs. Bratring, 511 West Burchett street.

Many noted artists of Los Angeles, Hollywood, Eagle Rock, Pasadena and other surrounding points will also observe Open House Week, which is one of the most ambitious programs on behalf of Southern California artists ever sponsored by the District Federation of Women's clubs.

THEATRES

THE GLENDALE

"Hell's Hole" shows at the Glendale Theatre for the last times today, with Charles Jones, Maurice Flynn and Ruth Clifford in the cast. It is a William Fox picture, directed by Emmett J. Flinn.

The gem of the entire picture is the gigantic avalanche that roars its way into the plot and down the hillside to wreak havoc in its path and almost destroy the dramatic lives of the three principals. If you have considered ere now that floods and hurricanes are the peak of thrills in pictures, you have a palpitating treat in store for you in "Hell's Hole" and the avalanche. You almost hear the tons of dirt and rock cannon and reverberate through the silence of the hills.

THE GATEWAY

Harold Bell Wright's story "When a Man's a Man" concludes its run at the Gateway Theatre today, with a cast including Bowers, Marguerite de la Motte, Robert Frazer, June Marlowe, Forrest Robinson, George Hackathorne, Fred Stanton, Charles Mailes, Edward Hearne, and many others of equal importance. Edward E. Cline directed the feature.

Practically all of Harold Bell Wright's stories were written in the cattle and mountain region of Arizona and Nevada, and many of the characters the famous author painted are still alive. It reaches the screen as a First National attraction.

Starting Sunday, Strongheart, "the wonder dog," returns to the screen in "The Love Master," which will show at the Gateway Theatre for three days.

Streets Cut Through And Graded, Woodbury Heights Takes On Aspect Of City

Dirt has been flying during the past few weeks in Woodbury Heights, declared T. W. Watson, subdivider of the tract, and as a result everything is about ready for the homebuilder. Streets have been cut through and graded so that every purchaser may see the lay of the site he selects for his future home place, he said.

"Work on the various utilities is going forward as rapidly as possible, so that those who are now building and who contemplate erecting homes there in the near ftutre, are making their arrangements with the absolute assurance that when they are ready for the utilities, the utilities will be ready and waiting for them," he continued. "This includes everything—water, gas, electricity, telephones and the like.

Water Mains In

"The work of installing the water mains has been finished and the water from the adequate Glendale system has been turned in. Everything is ready for the homeowner to make connections. During the past few weeks a crew of workmen has been busy with the laying of these mains and as a result water is now available to all sections of the tract.

"Within ten days, according to an announcement made by the company improving this tract, the work of laying the gas mains will have been started. This will be hurried to completion. Electricity is available right now to purchasers of homesites in this tract. The grade of all of the streets has been established, and the paving work, three inch macadam to be used in the entire tract, will begin just as soon as the work of installing the public utilities has been completed.

Electroliers Next

"Then come the ornamental electroliers. Woodbury Heights is one of the few tracts in Glendale in which ornamental electrolier system will be established. This will be installed at the same time as the sidewalks and the curbings. All of these improvements are included in the extremely reasonable prices that are being asked for the lots.

"As a scenic home location Woodbury Heights is a gem. It lies in the heart of this wonderful section, in the Glendale-Eagle Rock range of foothills, which are famed for their artistic features. Each homesite affords a wonderful view. It overlooks Glendale, and the view extends down to the beach cities and even to Catalina. To the west is the beautiful course of the Los Angeles river and to the north, Burbank and the fertile San Fernando valley.

Tract Accessibility

"The accessibility of the tract is one of its big features. It is close to churches, stores, theatres, schools, lodges, and everything, in fact, that the home owner occasionally desires. A modern bus line runs by the tract, and a modern electric line is but two blocks away. With this "close-in" feature, the tract is far enough out to be exclusive and quiet. The resident of this tract, after a hard day's work, may go home with the perfect assurance that he will enjoy a good night's rest."

There are three men behind this tract—G. B. Woodbury, the owner; Thomas W. Watson, the subdivider, and C. W. McCadden, the sales-manager. All have been residents here for many years, and all are well known.

This property is being subdivided, improved and sold by the T. W. Watson company, 708 East Broadway, of which Mr. Watson is head. The familiarity of Mr. Watson with all parts of Glendale makes him an authority on home values. He recommends the homesites in Woodbury Heights to those wishing exclusive home places.

months, registering an increase of 12 per cent.

Increase Is High

START PETITIONS FOR STORM DRAIN

Steps Taken to Prevent Any Recurrence of Recent Flood Damage

Signatures are now being obtained on a petition directed to the members of the Los Angeles City Council and asking that an assessment district be laid out for a storm drain to care for the Ellenwood drive section, south to Avenue 45 or York boulevard.

This action follows the disastrous storm waters that raged down from the fire-denuded hills, following the recent rains. Copies of the petition are to be found in drug stores, realty offices and elsewhere in the community and all residents interested in the matter are requested to sign. The petition reads as follows:

"We, the undersigned property owners of Los Angeles, in our distress caused by the late storms, do hereby petition your Honorable Body to lay out an assessment district for a storm drain to take care of storm waters coming down Ellenwood drive, south to Avenue 45, or York boulevard; and affecting all that portion of the city west of Caspar and south of Colorado boulevard.

"We request that this work be carried forward as soon as possible so as to avoid a repetition of those storm waters next winter, and also that the storm drains now planned for this section connect with the work continued from this point north."

Players Reorganize

Arrangements have been consummated between the Community Players and the Women's Twentieth Century club, whereby the former will use the clubhouse of the latter for the public presentation of a series of plays, announces Mrs. Elgie Lowry Fischer, director of the players and a leader in local dramatics.

One of the chief reasons the Community Players' organization has laid dormant for the past few months, she explains, is that following annexation to Los Angeles, it was impossible to effect a satisfactory arrangement with the Board of Education for the use of the school auditorium for such purposes, a ruling to the contrary being in effect.

Now that the Women's Twentieth Century club has come to the rescue, Mrs. Fischer is beginning to line up the troupe and a meeting of the board of directors of the organization will be called in the immediate future, when the details of the arrangement will be brought up for approval.

Survey Predicts Record Amount Of Building For Spring Of Present Year reported $221,659,653, or 75 per cent of the total permts issued in 329 cities and towns.

"New York City continued to reveal amazing figures, the month's total being $109,046,509, a gain of nearly $30,000,000, or 37 per cent, over February, 1923, and more than 100 per cent over February, 1922.

"Other cities showing large percentages of gains were Los Angeles, Detroit, Providence, R. I., Rochester, N. Y., Boston, Indianapolis, Portland, Ore., San Francisco and Oakland, while Chicago and Washington showed considerable losses.

"Building material prices increased somewhat in practically all lines during February. In the east, especially New York City, the rise in starting materials was significant. Southern pine was somewhat scarcer than usual and as a result prices were higher, but still considerably below February of last year. Cement and lime prices in some middle western cities were softer. Structural materials, rivets and bar iron also showed slight decline.

"Among building material experts the immediate expectation was for further increases in the spring months."

WE HAVE MOVED

To Our New Offices at 108 WEST BROADWAY, Because We Need More Room to Permit Us to Handle Our Big Sub-Divisions; WOODLAND PARK, MESA CREST, BURTON HEIGHTS And Our VERDUGO WOODLANDS Special Investment Opportunities

WOODLAND PARK

In the Heart of Verdugo Woodlands

Here we have just completed four 4-room bungalows, modern in every detail, with built-in features, hardwood floors, some with Tiffany walls and some with walls papered in artistic designs of the highest quality, five-piece plumbing, with concrete-floored garages in the rear.

These houses are ready to move into and are complete, down to the window shades and wire screens.

Each of these houses stands on a large lot, surrounded with the noble oaks and sycamores on every lot that lend such a home-like and restful atmosphere to Woodland Park.

We have priced these bungalows at figures ranging from

with initial payments ranging from $600 to $1000, and the balance payable on easy terms.

In spite of the extremely low prices of these houses they are NOT in a $5000 neighborhood.

WOODLAND PARK IS A REGION WHERE $10,000 STANDARDS PREVAIL

All improvements are already installed and paid for, and every house already built or yet to be built in Woodland Park is close to the street cars that maintain a regular and rapid service right into the heart of the Glendale business district, while the motorist can roll over paved streets from his home to his office.

MESA CREST

In a Class All By Itself

Lying diagonally across the main boulevard from the La Canada Country Club, Mesa Crest occupies a site where values are certain to climb in the immediate future.

This is shown by the fact that re-sales that have been made by the early purchasers in Mesa Crest have doubled their money first paid for the property.

With a wonderful vista of the entire La Canada and La Crescenta Valleys spread before it, Mesa Crest is one of the marvellous view spots of the Southland, unrivalled in its beauty. The homes of people of wealth and culture surround Mesa Crest on every side, and the residences that are to be erected in this subdivision will rival anything that has already been built in this region.

that will be sold on easy terms. All improvements are in and paid for—street lights, paving, gas, water and electric lights, and these fine, level lots cannot be duplicated at double the money in this district, while in many other localities the prices would easily be three times what we are asking for Mesa Crest lots.

Mesa Crest lies on Verdugo Road, between Montrose and Flintridge, two blocks from the Glendale and Montrose car lines, and two blocks from the business center of Montrose.

The far-sighted buyer will make sure of his Mesa Crest lots now, either for a home or for an investment, before the La Canada Country Club starts, for prices will skyrocket then.

BURTON HEIGHTS

The Cream of Valley Property

Located on Pennsylvania Avenue, just south of Michigan Avenue, amid the beauties of La Crescenta, Burton Heights offers the investor or the home seeker an opportunity to secure property that cannot be equalled for its value or its charm.

The lots are large and are covered with bearing grape vines, a cement storm drain has just been completed, the streets are now being finished, water pipes are going in—in fact, the time to buy in Burton Heights is NOW, before the cream of the value has been taken and when the certainty of a rapid advance insures the purchaser of a handsome profit if he desires to sell again.

For the next ten days we offer exceptionally liberal terms on the few remaining lots, which will be sold at

And this price includes water, water share, graded and oiled streets, and a chance on the Studebaker Special Six that is going to be turned over, free of every cost, to some purchaser of a lot in this subdivision.

And remember, you get your deed just as soon as 20 per cent of the purchase price has been paid,

How to get there: Drive out Verdugo Road to Montrose, turn to the left at the bank on Honolulu Avenue, and follow the pavement to the tract, where our representatives will point out to you the unrivalled advantages of the cream of the valley subdivisions.

VERDUGO WOODLANDS

We have a large number of re-sales listed in Verdugo Woodlands that we can sell for less money than any adjoining property. These lots embrace both hillside and level lots, some with trees and some without trees. All of them are remarkable bargains, and with prices advancing as rapidly as they have been doing since the opening of the Oakmont Country Club, the opportunity for making a rich profit is one that no wise investor can afford to ignore.

Come in and talk with us about a home or an investment in Verdugo Woodlands. We can save you money and make you money.

But you should act quickly. Glendale's inevitable development is northward, and Verdugo Woodlands lies right in the path of what is already the favored section of persons who seek a home amid the choicest beauties of nature or who realize the chance to reap a substantial profit on their investments.
